1943 BUDGET OF COMMUNITY FUND $65,020

Allocations Approved Total Nearly Same as Last Year, Agency Reports.

NEW UNIT ADDED

Administrative Budget Hiked Due to Added Expense of War Chest Drive.

Mansfield agencies participating in the Community Fund will be allocated $65,020 for the coming year's operations under recommendations agreed on last night by the fund budget committee and which now awaits approval of the executive board.

The inclusion of the St. Vincent de Paul society, a Catholic charities organization, and an increase for administration purposes in assuming direction of the War Chest, are noted in the budget committee recommendations

An early special meeting of the executive committee is anticipated, according to A. E. Courtney, chairman of the budgeting body.

At 4 p. m. today Chairman C. A. Hines of the War Chest budget committee and his co-workers will meet to determine what agencies will participate in the chest program, and to what extent.

During the current year the St. Vincent society is operating on a fund of $4,616 accumulated through private drives and assessments. Its request for $4,960.38 has been pared to $4,700 by the budget makers.

Reduction of the visiting nurse fund from $6,750 for this year to $4,500 for next year is possible, Fund officials say, through elimination of one nurse assignment and one clerk position. These eliminations deduct $2,820 from payroll totals in that agency.

Budget committee members explain that the increase in the Hospital Bureau fund is due largely to a different set-up in that fund during the past year, under which the money is paid for borderline cases instead of going direct to General hospital. The hospital fund was cut $1,500 last year but this has been restored with a slight increase.

Budget makers last night declared the over-all Community Fund budget should be approximately what it was for the past year when $64,375 was the total allocation. Last year's figures

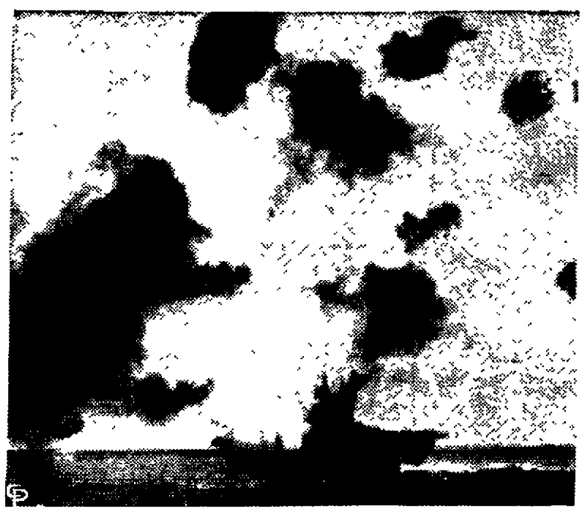
BULLETIN

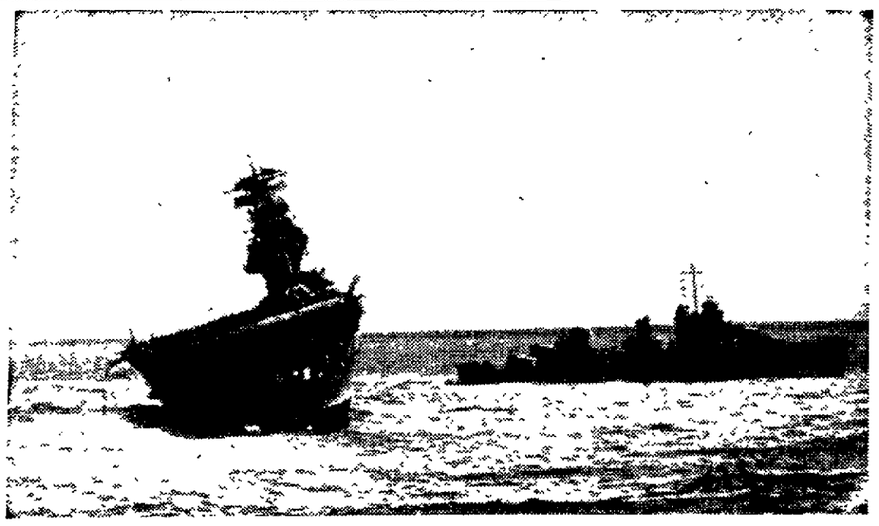
NEW YORK — (AP) — The eastern defense command announced today that a small raft had been found along the Atlantic coast of Long Island last night and that a shot was fired in an unsuccessful attempt to halt a prowler.

An army beach patrol, together with police and coast guard, later searched the vicinity but "discovered nothing unusual."

The announcement said the incident occurred at about 10 p. m., Eastern War Time.

As Yorktown Went to Bottom In Battle of Midway





These dramatic pictures show the attack upon and the sinking of the United States aircraft carrier Yorktown, which was lost off Midway, during the heavy fighting there June 7. The navy withheld announcement on the Yorktown's loss until now in the belief the enemy did not know he had actually sunk the ship. At top left the Yorktown may be seen as she withstood a heavy air attack by bombers and torpedo planes on June 4. Lower left photo shows the carrier listing after being torpedoed by an enemy submarine on June 7. At top right may be seen some of the ship's crew and flight personnel walking with difficulty on the sloping flight deck of the doomed carrier shortly before she sank. At lower right is Captain Elliott Buckmaster, skipper of the Yorktown. He is a resident of Columbus.

Chinese Report Hirohito In Conference With Tojo's War Cabinet.

TANI REPLACES TOGO

Two Divisions of Japs Are Concentrated at Shanghai, Chungking Reveals.

(By United Press)

CHUNGKING — Authentic reports that Emperor Hirohito had conferred with Premier Hideki Tojo's war cabinet on highly important issues caused reliable Chinese quarters to suggest again today that a Japanese assault on Siberia was impending.

These reports said the conference had taken place Wednesday, after Tojo had appointed a new foreign minister, Masayuki Tani. Only on issues most vital to the future of Japan does the emperor confer with the entire cabinet.

Japanese broadcasts said Tani, president of the board of information, had been sworn in as foreign minister before the emperor at 11 a. m. Wednesday, but did not reveal whether the remainder of the cabinet had been present.

Tojo had taken over the duties of foreign minister upon the resignation of Shigenori Togo earlier this month. At that time it was reported that Togo, only member of the cabinet who could not be classified a military extremist, had to be eased out before the Japanese army could carry out its plans to attack Russia. He was an advocate of Japanese-Russian "friendship."

Chinese circles believed that Germany has demanded a Japanese attack on Russia's rear as soon as the Germans prove their superiority over the Red army by the capture of Stalingrad, believing a two-front war at such a crucial moment would be disastrous to Russia.

A Chinese military spokesman announced today that the Japanese had concentrated two divisions at Shanghai and an unknown number in Hankow for "operations either in China or abroad."

"It is hard to guess exactly where they will be used," the spokesman said

It was suggested here that the Japanese navy may have assured Tojo of its ability to handle the Solomon islands and New Guinea situation successfully, thus giving the Japanese army a green light for actions elsewhere

Street Fighting Rages In Parts Of Volga City

Moscow Admits German Gains Despite Heavy Casualties; Soldiers Fire From Attics and Cellars In Midst of Bomb Rain.

(By Associated Press)

MOSCOW—German and Russian infantrymen battled in the attics and cellars of a northwestern section of Stalingrad today after the gates of the city finally had been opened to the invaders by massed tanks.

Bombs rained down without a letup upon the defending army—made up of soldiers, Red marines and armed civilians—and buildings within the smoking Volga city as waves of Nazi dive-bombers hurled themselves into the assault.

It was apparent from field dispatches that the German air force held a clear numerical superiority and was hard for Soviet fliers to fight off.

The Moscow radio announced the invaders were maintaining their advance, despite thousands of casualties.

Successful defensive actions were stressed by the Soviet information bureau's mid-day communique a few hours later, however, and Russian field dispatches in no way intimated that the fighting was lessened or that the city was falling.

"In the northwestern outskirts of Stalingrad, enemy automatic riflemen supported by tanks were repulsed by a Soviet infantry unit," the communique said

On other sectors of the Stalingrad defense zone hand to hand fighting developed frequently.

Furious fighting was reported in the northwestern section, with the Germans swarming into every house they could seize.

They fired from attics and cellars, a dispatch said, but the Red army men ejected them from many.

Dispatches left no doubt that the German air force was raining bombs continually upon the weary Russian fighters, capitalizing on a numerical superiority seldom if ever before attained in the German-Russian war.

The army newspaper Red Star said the sky over the city was swarming with both dive-bombers and high level squadrons and declared that the fate of the town depended upon the skill and courage of the available Soviet fighter pilots, who were credited with shooting down 32 planes yesterday.

German planes were reported previously to have been rushed from many distant sectors, including North Africa, for the assault and the government newspaper Izvestia said documents found in the ruins of a downed Junkers transport showed that it had been flown to Stalingrad from the Netherlands.

Several hundred thousand troops were declared by Izvestia to have been concentrated by the German command for the push that broke into the outskirts.

Transport planes brought up fresh forces and poured them into the battle. Plane landings

HEAVY: 800 RAF Planes Hit Industrial Heart of Germany

(By Associated Press)

LONDON—Massed squadrons of possibly 800 RAF bombers unloaded another huge load of explosives upon the industrial heart of Germany last night, striking at the Ruhr in a renewed effort to aid Soviet Russia by crippling Adolf Hitler's war-making machinery.

This massive night blow at the Ruhr, the air ministry disclosed, followed a daring dusk attack by light British bombers on Wiesbaden, in the Rhineland. Wiesbaden is the seat of the German armistice commission that deals with French armistice matters.

The night raid, delivered by "a very strong force of bombers," left many fires burning, some of them very large, the communique said.

British losses in the two air forays were 39 planes, it was announced. If the usual five per cent loss ratio prevailed, the RAF may have sent over as many as 800 planes. An authoritative source said specifically, however, that it was not a 1,000-bomber operation.

The RAF ran its string of night assaults on the reich this month to 10 by this attack.

Spitfire fighters meanwhile intercepted a group of high-flying German daylight raiders over the English channel this morning and turned them back after they had tried three times to cross the British south coast.

A German broadcast said several localities in the Rhineland and Westphalia had been bombed with damage to buildings and civilian casualties. It reported that 37 of the British raiders were shot down.

Of the nine previous night attacks which the British have

CLOSER: Japanese Push on to Within 32 Miles of Port Moresby

(By United Press)

GEN M'ARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia—Japanese forces driving through the towering Owen Stanley mountains of New Guinea are exerting heavy pressure on Allied troops only 32 air miles north of Port Moresby, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today.

Serious fighting was in progress on the south slope of the 7,000-foot range, MacArthur said in a communique.

A headquarters spokesman said the general combat zone was north of the village of Ioribaiwa, and hostilities involved parts of the main strength of both the Allied and enemy forces.

"The skirmishing now involves more than patrols," he said. "The fighting is see-sawing back and forth and the patrols of both sides have been reinforced."

The Japanese were using light mountain artillery and relying on infiltration tactics similar to those they have employed throughout the entire jungle campaign in New Guinea.

Allied air forces were supporting the ground troops in attacks on the Japanese lines and communications in the Stanley range and in wide sweeps north and east of New Guinea.

MacArthur sent an armed reconnaissance air unit over the mountains again to the Japanese main base at Buna, on New Guinea's north shore, where enemy barges on the beach were bombed. Results were not observed.

Allied air units raided dispersal areas in a night attack at Rabaul, on the northeastern tip of New Britain, but pilots were not certain of the results.

Medium bombers, flying 600 miles northeast of Port Moresby,

STARS' BOND TOTAL $97,600

$21,000 in Additional Pledges Recorded, Giving September Quota Big Push.

Mansfield's special war bond sale hit close to the $100,000 mark after all figures from the drive that brought three topflight movie stars to the city Wednesday had been totaled by the September bond selling committee today

Another $21,000 was added to the $76,600, announced after the first totaling of pledges, and the grand total now stands at $97,600, Fred Hout, chairman of the September committee, said today.

The victory luncheon that preceeded rallies at three industrial plants and another in Central park netted $71,000 while $5,600 was chalked up in the first 15 minutes of bond-buying at Central park. The latter amount was exclusive of the $1,500 realized from the sale of victory corsages at $1 each.

In another phase of the September bond sale campaign, Hout reported today that workers in Mansfield industries had increased their commitments for payroll deductions—to buy war bonds—by $57,000

This increase, he said, will represent a gain in deductions from

Farmers Vote on AAA Friday: Get War Crop Request

With Richland county farmers and their wives scheduled to elect township AAA committeemen tomorrow night to administer the federal crop program next year, state AAA officials today called on farmers to divert some of their wheat acreage to war crops to boost the nation's food supply in 1943.

Elmer Kruse, state AAA chairman, urged Ohio farmers to seed an additional 127,000 acres in soybeans alone, which would place Richland county's allotment at about 1,440 acres in excess of this year's crop of beans.

Other crops listed as necessary to the nation's war program are flaxseed, dry beans and peas, sugar beets, and castor beans.

'Give It to Us Quick' Plea Of Doomed Yorktown Sailors

By CHARLES R. MOORE
(UP Staff Correspondent)

SAN FRANCISCO—The carrier Yorktown was sinking and a chief petty officer and two enlisted men were hopelessly trapped five decks below. They had telephone communication with the topside and this is what the chief petty officer said:

"Sure! We know you can't get us out, but we got a helluva good acey-deucey game goin' down here . . . when you sink her, put the torpedoes up forward. We don't want it to last too long."

That was one instance of heroism among the gallant ship's crew while she was fighting her last battle and dying.

Another:

One after the other, three antiaircraft gunners were shot out of the same gun seat. The fourth man took his place as calmly as though it had been a drill.

Another:

Capt. Elliott Buckmaster, the Yorktown's commanding officer, swam from a crowded raft to a whale boat towing an injured Negro mess attendant, then swam back to the raft.

Several hundred of the Yorktown's crew, tanned, muscular young men eager for new battle stations, recently moved into Treasure island to await orders. All are proud of their ship, which they say has "done more than any ship in the navy."

When the Yorktown headed into the Midway battle zone she had already suffered a bomb hit

FACES ACTION

Former Ashland Clerk Short $3,845, State Says.

ASHLAND — Prosecuting Attorney A. Ross Siverling said today he had not yet decided what action he will take on the reported shortage of $3,845 in the accounts of Charles W. Good, former clerk in the city water department.

The shortage was listed in a report of Examiner C. E. Risser filed today with the State Inspection bureau at Columbus. reported that Good admitted the shortage, saying he had converted receipts for July and August, 1941, to his own account and accepted "full responsibility for the shortage."

Good served as clerk collector in the water department from Sept 1, 1938, to Dec. 31. Siverling was meeting today with the Ashland county grand jury in the second day of its fall session.

Year for Hard Work, Coffey Tells Legion at Ceremonies

"We refused our responsibility after winning a shooting war 24 years ago and that fault was a declaration of the current struggle," declared Martin Coffey, Ohio department commander of the American Legion at installation ceremonies of McVey post and Richland county units here last night.

"We told the world," the Middletown veteran said, "that we didn't care if Japan marched in Manchuria; we didn't care when Mussolini marched into Ethiopia; we didn't care when Hitler ravaged Czechoslovakia and Poland. We said we could clear the Pacific in six weeks and take Tokyo in nine weeks. We were smug, we didn't care what happened elsewhere—and today, so far, we are on the losing side of a world-wide struggle.

"If you wear your Legion button for business or political reasons turn it in at once. This is a year for hard work — no time to fool around, plan dances or picnics. Our play-days are over. This is the year that we veterans of the first World war, too old and too fat now to fight, must re-enlist for national defense. This is the year we prove whether our organization is fundamentally sound or sadly lacking. We're down on the canvas right now and every one of us must devote full time and fullest effort to rise again.

FACE HARVEST LABOR PROBLEM

Richland Farmers Look For Men; Handley Says Nothing Will Go to Waste.

Richland county farmers and orchardists today faced their most serious labor shortage in years as they began looking for men to harvest apples, potatoes, corn, and other fall crops.

Apple picking and corn cutting won't be in full swing before the end of next week, but already the U. S. Employment center in Mansfield is getting more calls for help than it can fill

"We are not going to let farm crops go to waste here if we have to bring in laborers from other parts of the state to do the work," said C. W. Handley, manager of the employment center.

Employment officials in some sections of the state fear that the labor shortage will force farmers to let a part of their bumper war crops waste in the fields this fall.

Handley added that "the worst is yet to come" in the matter of farm labor. He said high school

Empire Officials, Union Puzzled by Perkins 'Order'

Empire Steel and Tin Plate company officials and officers of the United Steel Workers union here today were puzzling over action of Labor Secretary Perkins in certifying what they call a "mythical" wage increase and checkoff dispute to the war labor board.

"The company some weeks ago inaugurated the voluntary dues deduction plan and began paying an agreed-on 5½ per cent wage increase to 1,500 employes," James Hill, Empire president said. Hill couldn't understand the Perkins "somewhat tardy and wholly unnecessary" certification.

"Dues deductions started around the first of September and we've been enjoying the increase for a month or more," Harry Gerhart, Delano (union) lodge official who could be reached at noon declared.

Nothing pertaining to these issues will come before Delano lodge at Saturday's meeting, so far as could be learned from union chieftains today.

Yank Loses $360 But Gets It Back From London Lady

LONDON —(INS)— At least one American soldier in Britain is convinced of Anglo-American solidarity. He lost his wallet while sleeping in a park near Ilfracombe. There was $360 in hard-earned, long-saved British notes in that wallet.

Two days later he was called to the local police station to claim it. A Mrs. Minnie Morgan had found it and taken both wallet and savings to the authorities.

"You British are sure mighty honest," was the soldier's comment as he rewarded Mrs. Morgan with $60. And if Mrs. Morgan had spoken in the American vernacular, she probably would have said:

"And you Americans are sure mighty generous."

DEMANDS PROBE OF PERJURY IN ASHLAND COURT

Judge Orders Grand Jury To Be Thorough, Declares Liberty at Stake.

ASHLAND—The first session of the Ashland county grand jury for the September term of common pleas court, which opened yesterday, is being continued today.

As the grand jurors went into session yesterday morning Common Pleas Judge H. E. Culbertson charged them to make a special investigation of perjury in common pleas court stating that he "had suspicions" that there had been a considerable amount of perjury on the witness stand.

He said that he had subpenaed witnesses and instructed the jurors to "investigate to the fullest extent, no matter how long it takes" and to subpena any witness they might need in such an investigation.

Judge Culbertson declared "liberties are not safe and life is not safe when anyone can take the witness stand and swear falsely."

Milton G. Miller of Ashland was appointed foreman of the grand jury.

A. Ross Siverling, prosecutor, said approximately five cases were to be considered today.

WILMINGTON —(U.P.)— George W. Timmons of Columbus, a building contractor, said today that announcement of award to his firm of a $100,000 to $500,000 contract for work in Hardin county "apparently is a mistake of the war department."

Timmons, who was in Wilmington directing improvements at the Clinton county airport, said that he had been awarded a war department contract which "meets those specifications" but which is for work in Greene county near Xenia.

"I haven't even entered negotiations for a Hardin county job," he said. "It may be possible that I've been given the contract but I never heard of getting a job you've never even bid on."

HAVE YOU TASTED
Amazing New Wonder Bread With Its Taste-Thrilling
"PATENTED FLAVOR"?

Women Quitting Old Kinds For It At The Rate Of 5,000 A Week Now!

Takes The Place Of Any White Bread Deficient In Natural Flavor, Vitamins And Minerals Because It Contains More Natural Flavor, Wheat Vitamins And Minerals

IF YOU want to add a new flavor thrill to the table you set, then you must try this amazing new "patented flavor" bread. Which has already taken the place of ordinary white bread in over 540,000 American homes. For these two reasons:

1. Because it brings more of the rich, natural flavor of wheat full-ripened in the sun than white bread robbed of Nature's bounty. Thus, is better for taste.
2. Because it contains more natural vitamins and minerals of wheat now than ever before thought possible.

You can see the difference at once. Gone is the chalk-white look of the ordinary baker's bread. Instead, this new "patented flavor" kind has the color of the cream on the top of the bottle of milk.

A Remarkable Discovery

Everybody knows the trouble with ordinary white bread. Made from flour bled white in refining to make a whiter loaf. Then Theodore Earle patented his discovery (U. S. Pat. Nos. 2143306, 2232697, 2155219, 2232696). And here is the secret of "patented flavor."

ONLY WONDER BREAD HAS "PATENTED FLAVOR"
Because Only Wonder Bread Is Made This Way From Earle Patented Process Flour Under U. S. Pat. Nos. 2143306, 2232697, 2155219, 2232696

By removing the bad-tasting outer skin of the grain, you get this richer, better tasting loaf. A bread the color of cream; tender in texture and crust. And with more natural vitamins and minerals.

To obtain this amazing new "patented flavor" loaf—ask your grocer today for the new Wonder Bread. And see for yourself why women everywhere are quitting ordinary white bread for this new creamy-kind at the rate of over 5,000 weekly.

A Great Thrill

Most people are astonished and thrilled by their first taste of this new "patented flavor" Wonder Bread. Not the flat insipid flavor of the usual chalk-white kind. But refreshingly different! Like the taste of fresh fruit after canned. You'll say it's marvelous!

But discover for yourself just how much better this new "patented flavor" Wonder Bread tastes. Mothers of growing children and wives of men who work should serve it daily instead of any ordinary vitamin-deficient kind.

Then, too, this new "patented flavor" Wonder Bread is doubly fresh—fresh when you buy it and fresh when you eat it. Because slo-baked for lasting freshness—baked 13% longer than many ordinary kinds.

See how much longer "patented flavor" Wonder Bread stays fresh in the bread box; how much longer sandwiches stay fresh in the lunch box.

Ask your grocer for the bread with "patented flavor"—the new Wonder Bread—today sure. You, too, will be delighted with it.

Testing Time for Our Constitution

SO MUCH has been said, and written, about the Constitution of the United States, and the amendments which constitute the Bill of Rights, that this Constitution day may bring no new thought on the subject.

On this 155th anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution it may be even better to wait another year, or possibly longer, before expressing confidence that "the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity," vouchsafed under the Constitution, can be successfully defended against the military might now being thrown against us.

To Hitler and his cohorts the idea of equality and constitutional self government is ridiculous, and the totalitarian state, with self-appointed rulers over subservient people, is the Axis ideology that has already been imposed on much of Europe and which now constitutes a threat to our own country.

Defense against this peril requires not only internal readiness to meet whatever form of attack may come, but also necessitates energetic participation in the war being fought in many parts of the world.

What is going on in Russia, in Egypt, in China, and in all other battle zones, deeply concerns the people of this country, and the outcome of the desperate fighting in the Stalingrad area may have definite bearing on whether or not enemy bombs will sometime be dropped on American cities.

Considering the short time that has elapsed since the Pearl Harbor attack by Japan, this country has made creditable progress toward readiness for war—but the requirement for all-out production and participation is still far from being reached.

There are even some people in this country who evidence little understanding of the fact that their nation is at war and that it is THEIR WAR.

There are still some persons employed in war production, who go out on strikes; who talk about wages and hours, while American boys are fighting and dying in foreign lands; who object to limits or farm prices; who think that the war can be won without depriving them of any accustomed comforts; who feel that wartime taxes are too high and who have a notion that life, for them, can go along about as usual.

There are even some who consider the investment of not under 10 per cent of wages, salary or income in War Savings Bonds as too great a contribution to the war effort—but who continue wasteful expenditures to indulge personal habits or extravagances.

Much will happen within the next year. By the time Constitution day comes along in 1943 it may be known whether "a nation conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal . . . can long endure."

Voters Reject Gerald L. K. Smith

A GLEAM of brightness in the encircling gloom is seen in the trouncing which Michigan Republicans in Tuesday's primaries, gave the rabble-rousing Gerald L. K. Smith, who aspired to nomination for United States senator.

The ex-preacher and one time disciple of Huey Long, Louisiana demagogue, conducted his senatorial campaign on a "tires for everybody" platform, and it must be admitted that Gerald L. K. makes a terrific appeal to the unthinking—of whom, it must be regretfully conceded, there are still plenty.

But the defeat of Smith, following shortly after Georgia voters had decided they had been sufficiently humiliated by the political buffoonery of Governor Eugene Talmadge, brings at least a ray of hope that self-seeking demagogues and proponents of fantastic schemes will have a steadily declining number of "followers."

Canned Greetings Banned

THE APPROACHING holiday season will be much less telegraphic than usual. Revised schedules filed with the federal communications commission by the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies, effective September 18, will do away with singing telegrams and fixed-text holiday and social greetings, while the war lasts.

Birthday, Christmas, New Year and other holiday greetings may still be sent by wire, if the full commercial rate is paid, but obviously that will be discouraging to would-be greeters. And here is an iron-clad rule: Holiday messages positively will not be sung to the receiver, regardless of rate

That isn't the whole sad story, either. There will be no more pep telegrams to athletic teams or reservation telegrams for travelers. Messenger boys will stop distributing unaddressed circulars.

Standardized messages, however, to and from the U. S. expeditionary forces overseas, will be continued, also their low rate cable money order service.

Closing Ordinance Means Little

ALL the agitation in Columbus over an ordinance fixing midnight as the closing hour for beer and liquor places is rather amusing to Mansfielders who recall that this city has such an ordinance, passed in good faith by city council a number of years ago, enforced for a little while but now entirely ignored.

The Columbus ordinance was passed by a 5-2 vote of council but the mayor has not yet decided whether he will sign it.

But what's the difference—Mansfield points the way to what can be done about a midnight closing ordinance to which liquor dealers object.

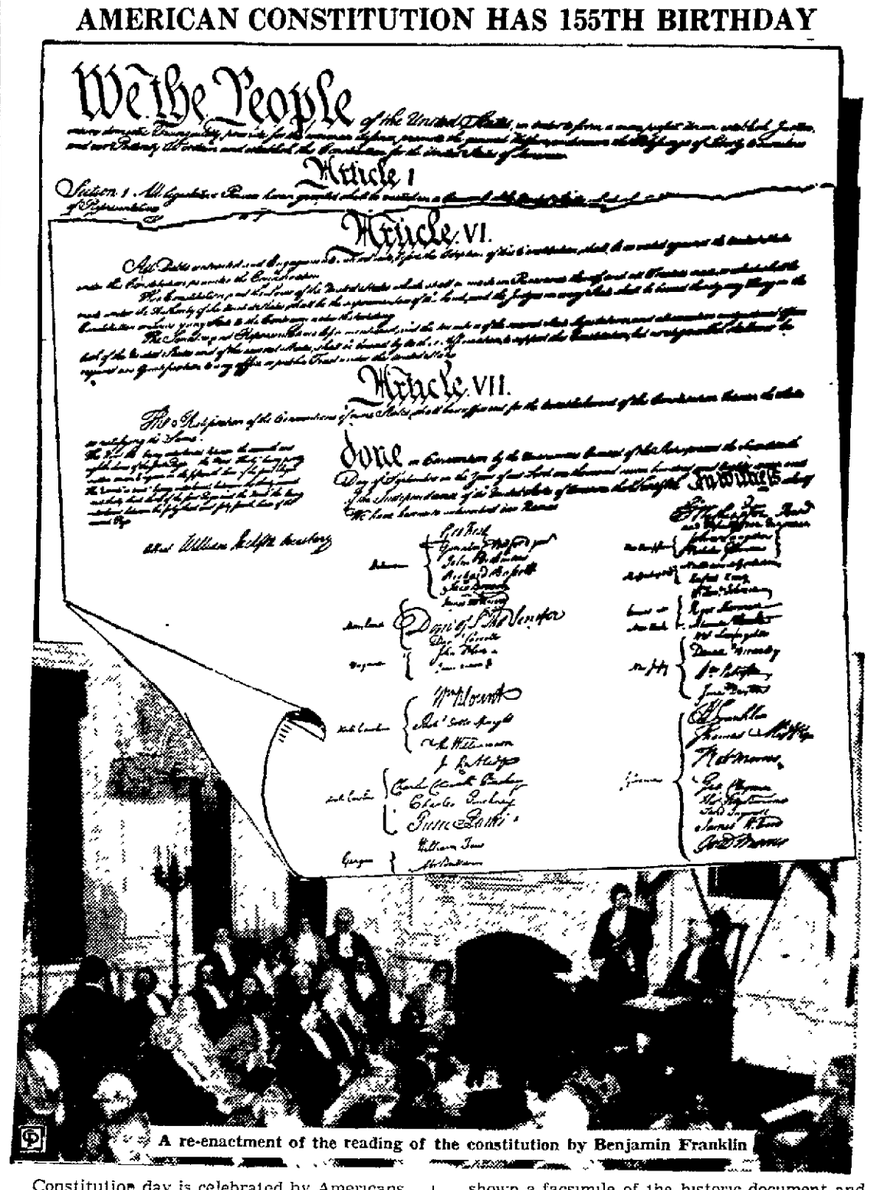
Unaccustomed Speed Is Necessary

SOME congressmen seem to think they are much abused by being asked to pass a more realistic farm price control bill in three weeks. Congress, in these latter years, would probably take six months to a year for such a job.

The average business organization might do it in a week. Hitler would do it some morning before breakfast, if given a chance.

These are not fantastic comparisons. There is a different tempo in human affairs today, as modern civilization roars toward some great climax. There is not much time to save ourselves. Armies, governments and economic systems, must move fast.

AMERICAN CONSTITUTION HAS 155TH BIRTHDAY



A re-enactment of the reading of the constitution by Benjamin Franklin

Constitution day is celebrated by Americans Sept 17 because on that day in 1787 the writing of the American constitution was completed and signed by delegates meeting in Independence hall in Philadelphia. Above is shown a facsimile of the historic document and a re-enacted scene of the reading of the constitution by Benjamin Franklin George Washington presided over the constitutional convention.

Lose By Taxes That Cut Dividends

—By CARTER FIELD

WASHINGTON—Nothing that has come from treasury officials attempting to direct the tax program in congress has indicated any realization of the fact that if you tap earnings before they reach the owner, the owner gets less

That statement would be harshly denied at the treasury department, but one needs only to examine estimates by the treasury experts to see that it is true. If the treasury takes 45 per cent of all corporation net earnings, obviously the amount of dividends paid by the corporations will be less So far, so good, from the treasury standpoint. Reduction of personal incomes is actually a goal in itself, in addition to revenue raising, for curtailed spending is also desired, as well as money to finance the war

But in making the calculations of probable revenue it should also be considered that reduced personal incomes spell reduced returns to the treasury.

MOST of the corporations of the country which have held dividend meetings in the last two months have either reduced or deferred the dividends. There are outstanding exceptions, such as the American Telephone and Telegraph company, which is maintaining its nine dollars a year per share But even in the case of this company, despite heavily increased earnings, the opinion of the market operators is that it will be obliged to cut its dividends

This is obvious from the price of the stock, selling, as this is written, at around $120 a share At $150 a share this stock would yield 6 per cent to a purchaser at that price. Does anyone, even the treasury experts, doubt that the price of this stock would be higher if it were not for the prospect of sharply reduced dividends?

Now let's see what happens to those dividends A man, owning 1 000 shares, gets now $9,000 a year in dividends Of that $9,000 he has to pay more than $6,000 to the treasury. In each such case, therefore, the government gains less by increasing the corporation income tax than by permitting it to reach the stock owner. In other words the treasury loses.

Yet all the calculations made as to what revenue taxes will produce ignore the fact that if you cut dividends you reduce individual income tax returns. All computations are made on what the reasury figures any given tax rate will produce. If half the water from a river used for irrigation is taken out upstream, there will be less water down below than formerly.

THERE is another angle—affecting small income persons, such as widows whose entire capital is invested in stocks. They will meet the rising cost of living with sharply reduced incomes, paying the government, through these levies, far more than the government itself figures they should pay in income taxes

Actually, the corporation income tax boost is much harder on the small incomes than the big ones.

Man About Manhattan

Keep Their Trailer

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Theatrical item: "Harry Kaufman has added the three Ross sisters to the cast of 'Count Me In,' starring Charles Butterworth. The Ross sisters are acrobats who live in a trailer with their parents."

Note Mama and Papa Ross were dirt farmers from west Texas They were never in the theater and knew nothing whatever about show business Few shows ever touched their immediate neighborhood

However, Mr and Mrs Ross were very athletic, and frequently put on the gloves to box with each other. Naturally they wanted the girls—Dixie, Betsy, and Vicki—to be strong and they encouraged their acrobatics.

WHEN the dust storms drove the Rosses off the land, Mr Ross went to work in the oil fields of west Texas and occasionally he secured employment in Mexican oil fields across the border.

The girls, meanwhile, continued their acrobatics. They grew proficient and eventually began exhibiting their skill in country fairs Somehow they obtained a job in a theater and toured the fairs and clubs of the midwest. The girls, one day, decided to pool their savings and purchase a trailer. This they did and they still live in it.

This trailer is parked at Ray Guy's Trailer Park, Bergen Boulevard, which is about a mile across the George Washington bridge, on Route 6 in New Jersey. They spend their mornings in and around the trailer camp, and rehearse at a Broadway theater all afternoon.

Yes they're thrilled about their first trip to New York.

"But," says Betsy, who is 20 and the eldest, "we certainly aren't going to give up our trailer until we are sure of the future."

NO POPULAR band can make big money until it has the three important takes—it's got to have a commercial program; it's got to make money from a backlog of records; it has to make money from one-nighters and theatrical engagements. If you can get 'em coming all three at once, say, as Kay Kyser has, you're in. But when you read of this band or that being "The nation's Number One," etc., look around and see what commercial they're on, if any; if you can't find them there, write the whole thing off as a press-agent's story.

For instance, here's a blurb in today's mail about a band that is pretty hot right now. Nobody knows whether it is going to be a one-season sensation or not. The blurb says, "Today this band has passed Glenn Miller and the rest of them, rating as the Country's Number 1 band not only in musicalship and public acclaim, but in the more substantially proven form of actual financial returns This band has actually broken the all-time record on every location it's played so far this year."

Bunk! This band had a nice record at Meadowbrook until Kay Kyser beat it all to pieces. Blurbs like this alienate people and does a band more harm than good.

Of those delegates in attendance 16 declined or failed to sign the document.

Timely Editorial

Phony Patriotism.

Cash redemption of War Bonds is running around $20,000,000 a month, not a high figure in view of sales 40 times as great, but still too much for a nation straining every effort to finance the war.

Part of this probably comes from necessity and the redemption feature was written into the bonds so that an owner, faced suddenly with financial emergency, might find relief. It was an expression of the nation's confidence in the good faith of its people.

Part of the sales come, however, from phony patriotism and a love of being a showoff. Some have bought bonds to impress their employers and associates only to cash in their investment in America at the first opportunity.

The American who fails to buy War Bonds is a slacker. The one who buys them and then redeems them except in dire necessity is a fraud, a cheat, a phony patriot and a generally no-good citizen who ought to duck up an alley and hide every time he sees a uniform—Canton Repository.

All Signs Point to Preparations For Quick Allied Thrust In Egypt

—By DE WITT MACKENZIE

FOR ANYONE inclined to bet on hunches it wouldn't be a bad idea to wager a few coins that the Anglo-American assault on Nazi Marshal Rommel's supply base at the port of Tobruk was the forerunner of the anxiously awaited Allied offensive to liquidate the Axis threat against Egypt.

It suggests that Britain's new Middle East commander, General Alexander, is maneuvering in preparation for a house-cleaning.

This destructive operation by sea, air and Commando forces could mean the British Eighth army, which is drawn up opposite Rommel's forces between the Mediterranean and the great Qattara depression in the flaming desert, is ready to pass from the stage of back-to-the-wall defense to aggressive initiative.

Of course it doesn't necessarily follow that the British intend to launch a drive with the next 24 hours. It wouldn't be surprising to see it come before long, however. General H. S. Sewell, British military expert, remarks with customary reserve:

"Morale is high and the soldiers of the desert army are thinking in terms of attack."

Soldiers don't think in terms of attack without good reason. The indications are that the British are either set for action or rapidly nearing preparedness. It's no secret that they have been receiving reinforcements and supplies.

With the fighting in the Caucasus in such a critical state, it's vital that the British break off the Libyan claw to the pincers which Hitler is trying to close about the whole Middle East. Egypt is the keystone of Britain's control of the eastern Mediterranean, and loss of that country might spell Allied disaster.

It's vastly encouraging to see the Allies demonstrate strength and assurance necessary for an attack against the strongly defended port of Tobruk. Alexander wasn't compelled to carry out any such expedition. That is, it wasn't by any means an act of despair in which a commander takes terrific risks. Undoubtedly the British leader figured on carrying out further destruction in this badly-bombed stronghold, but it looks very much as though his main purpose was to conduct a big scale action of reconnaissance. And the idea of that likely would be to prepare for further major operations

Watching Trends

—By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Add up a million or so letters received at the White House, the Office of Civilian Defense, and the Office of War Information, and you will find that the most frequent civilian inquiry is: "What Can I Do?"

The question applies, of course, to "what can I do to aid in the war effort?" Some of them are heart-breaking. The writers sometimes are almost illiterate, but their sincerity shines through One says: "I work all day but I could inlist in Diffense at nite." Another: "I have served in prison, and I wants to do somethin for my Country." A third: "Dear Mr. President, I am 7 years old, I am in the second grade. I feel the urge to help."

OCD has tried to answer them all in a pamphlet called "What Can I Do—The Citizen's Handbook for War." Its 48 pages are packed with guideposts for the civilians who want to help Any one can get them for the asking at their state and local defense council offices.

THE text is the ABC's of cooperation in the war effort, illustrated with 64 drawings by Gluyas Williams, who did them for free. A lot of it is elementary It points out that 53,000,000 Americans live in the so-called "target areas" and explains how they can black-out, etc. Such subjects as "civilian mobilization, conservation, salvage, the war budget (with allowances for purchase of war bonds); health, loose talk, and volunteer service in civilian defense agencies" are given a quick runover.

From there on, the pamphlet gets down to cases. Carpenters, plumbers and electricians can teach night training courses Painters can go in for camouflage There are jobs for truck, bus and taxi drivers, for miners, gardeners, butchers, bakers and wholesalers; for accountants, stenographers and clerks; for bankers, domestic help and barbers; for doctors, lawyers, nurses, preachers, librarians, musicians, architects, press agents and newspaper men.

There are chapters on "What Men and Women on the Farm Can Do", the contribution that can be made by boys and girls of school age, and, of course, a tabulation of voluntary civilian defense opportunities.

WHILE it is strictly a words-of-one-syllable pamphlet, it has an appendix that suggests scores of books and material for further guidance. There isn't a book or brochure in the whole list that can't be obtained free and the subjects cover the alphabet from Agriculture to War Savings Bonds.

OCD Director James M. Landis sums up the situation thusly: "Every man, woman and child in America has weapons for beating the Axis. You don't even need spare time to get into this war. Our weapons are all around us—in our homes and offices, schools and clubs."

Should Junior Decide?

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

THEY'RE having a great rowdydow in California about the compulsory teaching of history as a college course. Some for. Some against. Provided the little darlings agree. Which rouses the hackles on plump, blond neck.

Now get me right. I'm all for history. I'm all for California schools and kids. And if ever history courses were needed, they're needed right now. But the attitude of the various professors toward such courses rouses me to a new height in ire.

'Tisn't that I'm not strong for the youngsters. I am. Since my own baby arrived when I was 19, my home has been literally crawling with infants and adolescents whose enthusiasm and rebellions I whole-heartedly share. But when it comes to standing back and letting Junior run the works, willy-nilly, I think someone should be given a shot in the arm of common sense. And definitely.

I don't know when the row started. But one of the leading exponents of old-fashioned Americanism seems to be Brother Austin of St. Mary's college in Moraga Valley. Says, he:

"Im highly in favor of such a compulsory historical course. It has been a required course at St. Mary's for years.

"It is absolutely urgent, not only at the present time but at all times, that our citizens should learn of the beginning and the struggles our country underwent to become the great nation that it is today While important in wartime, it is most important of all in peace time when the proper psychological attitude must be built up for war time."

I have no connection with St. Mary's college and no acquaintance with Brother Austin. But that, says, I, is hoss sense...and 100 per cent patriotism. And why anyone should contest that view in training American youth is more than I can see. But they do As witness Dr. Cardinal Goodwin, chairman of the history department of Mills college in Oakland. According to Dr. Cardinal Goodwin:

"All of us feel that the students should have the course and that every inducement should be advanced to get students interested in the course."

The Doctor, however, "opposes compulsory courses in history because of the students' natural aversion to courses forced upon them by law."

Now ain't that something! We musn't make the little darlings do anything they don't wanna! Well, I didn't wanna take sulphur and molasses when I was 13 but you can bet your sweet life—and my Irish mother—that I took it. And plenty.

I still don't wanna, at the age of 59, take suggestions. But I also take them. And immediately. In between times I have urgently desired to commit murder and mayhem. And follow other impulses. But even to my primitive mind, these gratifications were obviously inexpedient. But now Dr Goodwin stresses the "students' natural aversion to courses forced on them by law"

Well, when in heck haven't students objected to courses forced on them by law? When haven't we all objected to courses and customs forced on us by law? And what kind of a civilization would we have if some mature adult hadn't overridden our infantile squawls and forced us to accept what we needed, whether we liked it or not?

If there's one thing which ails this nation, more than another, it's this cock-eyed idea that young America should be bottle-fed by coddling professors, then catapulted, with their half-baked notions, upon their suffering fellow citizens

The simple truth is, we all have to do the things we don't like to do. But we do them anyway, whether our feelings are hurt or not. That, to my humble mind, is the price we pay for democracy. And the people who oppose that plan should meet Mr. Mussolini—with his castor oil bottle.

A Farmer's Diary

Something Stirs

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

ALL THROUGH our good Buckeye cornbelt, something stirs this fall! A zeal that we did not feel in the air last year. We struggle to find words to express it rightly. It is awakening, it is resolve, it is determination and progress.

Flags line the village street, they wave from many flagpoles, in front of farmhouses. Women and girls, upon farm tractors, whir their iron steeds about next year's wheat fields. Service stars are in country windows. Long trains rumble over the B. & O.—which service our little valley—and over other railroads that cross and recross the state like a network. Long lines of cars are filled with old farm tools, rolls of wire, parts of old steel rails and chunks of bridges!

Corn cutting time, in 1942! Corn shocks form into long lines and battalions, not with the deliberate tempo of other years—not with time out for reunions and fairs and picnics — but with an earnestness and a relentless verve that tells the recognition of urgency

Busy is the word! Orchards bend with fruit. School doors swing open, and schoolboys come from their classes, with a whoop, to work like trojans at the apple picking. Cider mills are running, sorghum mills are opened, dairies and markets are going strong. Herds of heavy beef cattle are seen with increasing frequency—every farm, no matter how small, has more hogs and poultry.

No loafers are in city parks. In some places, acres of new buildings have mushroomed up in fields that were farmed last year. Great warning signs read, "NO ADMITTANCE without permit—by ORDER OF U. S. ARMY."

Something new is stirring. Geography has come alive! Talk to any farmer for a half hour, and your conversation turns to places you cannot pronounce and to peoples whose lives have never seemed important to you before.

Listen to a group of farmers talking fluently of butadiene and styrene, speculating as to which farm crops will yield the best rubber! Chemistry has become real. Talk with them of Barney Baruch, of Henry Ford, of Herbert Hoover's book, of Willkie and FDR.

They say, "We farmers are ready for price control, when 'it goes clear across the board.' Let's go! Our boys have gone to fight, and we can't let them down! Let's get the job over! Let's get behind the wheels and ahold of the tongue and pull and haul and heave this democracy out of the ruts onto the victory road! Let's buy war bonds and stamps until the cows go dry—and if any mule balks, let's shoot 'im quick, and send for the fertilizer wagon!"

BATTLE RAGING IN STREETS OF RUSSIAN CITY

Moscow Admits Germans Have Entered Stalingrad in Face of Heavy Losses.

this close to the front indicated the Germans were able to establish landing fields immediately outside the city.

Red Star said 5,000 Germans were killed during a counter-attack in the Sinyavino area of the Volkhov river front and fighting flamed on the central front, in the upper Don basin and along the Terek river valley of the Caucasus.

Major attention, however, was commanded by the battle of Stalingrad.

"The enemy is sustaining enormous losses," the Soviet radio said, "but is still pressing forward."

German tank groups were reported earlier to have cut into Red army lines on the northwestern fringes of the Soviet nerve center only to suffer extinction at the hands of Russian gunners and grenadiers still striking back powerfully in the 24th day of a fight to the death.

The admission that armored detachments of Field Marshal Fedor von Bock's siege forces were hard upon the northwestern outskirts was contained in the midnight communique, even though it emphasized the repulse of attacks.

(The Germans said there was street fighting deep in the city. The Berlin propaganda ministry was quoted in a dispatch relayed via Zurich, Switzerland, late yesterday as saying that Adolf Hitler's headquarters would issue a special announcement — expected to deal with Stalingrad—within 24 hours.)

A change of pressure was noted in the Nazi assault tactics in the sweep against the city from the northwest, for recent emphasis had been upon the west and southwestern fronts.

Battle 'Progresses', Germany Reports

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts)—(AP)—"The battle for the fortified city of Stalingrad is progressing without interruption," the high command reported today.

(That was the only reference in the German communique to land operations for the bitterly-contested city on the west bank of the Volga.)

The war bulletin said that on the Terek front along the Caucasus road to Grozny "fighting is still going on in the face of stubborn enemy resistance."

Again repeated Red army attacks in key salients from Voronezh to the far north were reported.

(Dispatches reaching Switzerland today quoted German propaganda ministry as saying Hitler would issue a special announcement today, and this seemed to indicate the fuehrer expected the swift collapse of Stalingrad.)

British Continuing Madagascar Advance

LONDON—(AP)—British forces were believed to be continuing their week-old advance today upon Tananarive, seat of the French administration of Madagascar, pending an agreement on armistice terms.

Sources here said there was no official information in London on the progress of negotiations which Governor General Armand Annet of Madagascar sought of the British commander, or of terms which might have been proposed. In seeking the armistice Annet asked that talks be arranged "to find means by which we can cease fighting with honor."

British columns were reported officially to have pushed more than half the way inland toward the capital.

Finns Report Attacks In North By Reds

HELSINKI — (AP) — For the second consecutive day the Finnish command reported today that the Russians were attacking heavily north of Lake Onega, and said that "although repeatedly repulsed, the Russians continue to throw fresh troops into the assault".

Yugoslavs Slain For Troop Train Wreck

LONDON — (AP) — A Reuters dispatch from Istanbul today quoted Belgrade reports that the Germans had shot all male inhabitants of four Yugoslav villages and sent the women and children to concentration camps in reprisal for the blowing up of a German military train.

The train, carrying troops and war supplies, was blown up by Serbian irregulars on Sept. 10, it was stated, and many young officers on their way to reinforce Marshal Rommel's Africa corps were killed.

launched against Germany since the first of the month, all save one have been on a major scale and most have involved hundreds of planes.

The targets have included Saarbruecken, Karlsruhe, Duisberg, Frankfurt, Duesseldorf, Wilhelmshaven and Bremen—which was raided twice.

While the RAF was over Germany last night a few Nazi raiders dropped bombs at several places in East Anglia, but official reports said they did little damage and caused no casualties.

Batter Axis Supply Port of Bengasi

CAIRO — (AP) — Allied heavy bombers made a daylight attack yesterday on the Axis supply port of Bengasi, more than 500 miles west of the Egyptian battlefront, scoring hits on two ships and setting one afire, a British communique announced today.

At the same time, the bulletin said, British fighters were active over the battle area, shooting down at least two enemy aircraft and damaging many others .One British plane failed to return to base.

On the previous night Tobruk, also a vital Axis supply port, was blasted by heavy bombers.

IT'LL BE COLD WINTER, OPA TELLS OHIOANS USING FUEL OIL

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Residents of Ohio and 29 other eastern and middle western states who depend on oil for heat face the prospects of "uncomfortably cold homes" this winter.

This warning came last night from Price Administrator Leon Henderson, who urged householders to "take out the oil burner and put in coal."

"The oil situation is so critical that there simply won't be enough to keep people warm in oil-heated homes," he said.

Henderson disclosed that the fuel oil rationing program in the area will be geared to a daytime temperature of 65 degrees under average weather conditions, compared with temperatures of 70 to 72 degrees maintained in most homes.

"If poor insulation and poor oil burner efficiency make it impossible to maintain the 65-degree temperature with this amount of oil, the householder is expected to cut down the heat loss rather than burn more oil," Henderson declared.

OPA said the average householder "until and including Sept. 30" may purchase up to 275 gallons without using coupons and that starting Oct. 1 he may buy oil if he agrees to surrender the necessary number of coupons when they become available. Ration books will be tailored to fit the individual's needs, with actual rationing beginning as soon as coupon books are available, probably about Oct. 5, OPA said.

1917-18 must go all-out for the kids we've sent to Bataan, to the Solomons, to Europe and elsewhere in the world because we did not insist on a victorious peace nearly a quarter of a century ago. Yours now is the obligation of service to your community."

Sam Fox, retiring commander of McVey post, was presented a diamond-studded past commander's ring—gift of his post comrades. Officers of McVey post and some of the recently elected officers from Bellville, Shelby, Plymouth and Shiloh posts were installed by Harry Eaton, Ashland, fifth district commander.

Following the post meeting Eaton named Fox division commander of all posts in Richland and Ashland counties. James Carrigan was appointed Richland county commander.

McVey officers for the year beginning Oct. 1 are: C. O. Lister, commander; R. E. Moore, sr., senior vice commander; James Brownscombe, junior vice commander; Robert Jones, adjutant; William Schnug, finance officer, re-elected; Grover Swoyer, chaplain, re-elected; Marion H. Rowe, sergeant-at-arms

Installation rites and speaking followed a chicken dinner served by the ladies' auxiliary of the post.

Farmers Vote on AAA Friday: Get War Crop Request

Wives of farmers participating in the AAA program will be eligible to vote for the first time Friday night for township committeemen. Voting will start at 8 p. m. at a meeting place in each township Most of the voting places will be in township halls. Schools will be used, however, in Springfield, Monroe, Mifflin, and Weller townships. Madison township farmers will vote at AAA headquarters in Mansfield.

Women also will be eligible to hold committee posts for the first time in the townships and county. Delegates from each of the 18 townships will meet in Mansfield Saturday to choose a county committee which then will elect officers.

State AAA officials said farmers who divert wheat acreage to war crops will not lose their wheat payments and their 1944 wheat allotments won't be reduced. Under the 1943 AAA plan, however, the farmer will not receive his full wheat payment unless he seeds at least 90 per cent of his wheat allotment or substitutes war crops acre for acre for wheat.

The winning contenders in the health contest will represent Ohio at the national 4-H club convention in Chicago in December. The winners were to be announced late this afternoon.

The congress closes tonight with a banquet at which Governor Bricker will speak.

Japs Hit Hard On Two Island Fronts

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Renewed American aerial assaults on Japanese invaders in the Aleutian and Solomon islands left the enemy today with a loss of two ships, damage to five others and three submarines, and 500 troop casualties.

In the southwest Pacific where U. S. marines hammered down a third Nipponese attempt to regain Guadacanal territory, the navy reported that marine and navy aircraft bombed and torpedoed enemy ships south of Choiseul island and damaged two cruisers.

Almost simultaneously, the navy and Pacific fleet headquarters told of striking savage new blows in the Aleutians far to the north where army planes sank two Japanese mine sweepers, damaged three submarines, three large cargo ships and "several small craft," killed or wounded an estimated 500 troops, shot down six planes and fired storehouses and supply dumps.

The big Aleutians raid, centering about Kiska harbor occurred Monday, the navy disclosed yesterday in the first report on that area since Aug. 22 when an American submarine sank an enemy merchant man. A Pacific fleet headquarters' communique said the action occurred Tuesday but both agreed on all substantial facts

Bell Airacobras and P-38's, on their first such mission in the Aleutians, escorted army heavy bombers, Consolidated "Liberators," on the assault without loss except for two P-38 Lightnings which collided over Kiska.

Enemy resistance with fighter planes and anti-aircraft fire was weak, enabling American forces to carry out what the Pacific fleet headquarters termed a "most successful attack." Four Zero fighters and one small plane were brought down and a large Japanese patrol plane was smashed while on the water.

At the other end of the far-flung Pacific battle theater, the marines still clung to their Guadalcanal base, as the navy announced that the intensity of the fighting had decreased. Marine patrols, meanwhile, still sought to drive enemy units from the interior of the island.

A Japanese cruiser and destroyer force was spotted yesterday off Choiseul, the navy said, by navy and marine dive bombers and navy torpedo planes. One of the cruisers was damaged by a bomb and the other by a torpedo in the action about 200 miles northwest of Guadacanal.

This boosted the toll on enemy shipping in the Solomons to more than a score sunk or damaged. In the Aleutians, the Japanese have had 32 ships lost or damaged to date as a result of the latest U. S air attack.

PUSHING BILL

Gurney Presses for Action On Drafting of Boys.

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Despite flat opposition by the senate military affairs committee, Sen Chan Gurney, (R-S. D.) said today he would press for immediate action on his bill to draft 18 and 19-year-old men.

The committee yesterday refused to hold hearings on the bill until the war department reports. Democratic senators said privately that the report would not be made until the administration gives the department the green light.

'Give It to Us Quick' Plea Of Doomed Yorktown Sailors

in the Coral sea fighting. She had been in port only long enough for a hasty patching.

At Midway, her planes were coming back from an attack when 30 Japanese bombers came over. Guns from the Yorktown and escorting cruisers and destroyers set up an ear-splitting din.

W. S. Kelso, boatswain's mate from Jackson, Tenn., said it was like "something you imagined." Seaman M. P. Hill of Jasper, Fla., said he once caught himself looking around for something to throw at the planes.

"Our fighters and guns," said Paul Rehlander of La Porte, Ind., "made hash out of 'em. The sky was full of burning planes. By the time they got to us, I saw only five planes left. They were all shot up or burning, but they came on in, low."

Some of them, he said, dove from 15,000 to 1,000 feet which seemed to take hours.

"I feel sorry for anybody that has to go through a dive-bombing attack," Rehlander said. 'Give me torpedoes any day. While you watch that bomber come down, you think of everything you've ever done in your life.

"Your eyes get riveted on that bomb, and something seems to force you away from it."

A Japanese bomb beside the carrier's stack put the boilers out of commission temporarily and kept the carrier motionless for an hour. She was just getting under way again when 18 Japanese torpedo planes attacked. All 18 were shot down but some got their torpedoes home.

Ship was abandoned and the Yorktown lay there unmanned for 36 hours, her men on other ships. Then the captain asked for rescue volunteers. He didn't have to ask twice.

By afternoon of that day the Yorktown was ready to be moved. Then came the submarine attack which sank the ship and a convoying destroyer, the Hamman.

FACE HARVEST LABOR PROBLEM

boys will be available for certain jobs through arrangement with school officials and added that WPA labor will be employed in communities where the prevailing WPA wage is paid.

The increased demand for workers in war plants and the bumper crops being harvested in northeastern Ohio have combined to make the picture darker there than in Richland county.

Because of the labor shortage, farm experts say, acres of hay went uncut and as a result greater quantities of grain will be required for dairy feeding next winter.

Trumbull county dairy farms were reported to be receiving government feed wheat in carload lots for their herds. Trumbull is second among Ohio counties in dairy production. Furthermore, Victor Logan of the county agricultural association said at Niles that "fields of luxurious and abundant silage corn are in hazardous condition." Whether they will be lost depends partly on availability of labor, he added.

Agricultural Agent Ormann R. Keyser of Stark county reported a quantity of fruit remained to be picked there. In an effort to obtain some aid for farmers, members of Canton civic organizations will be asked to work Sundays.

An apple grower in the Cleveland area, who expects a crop of 10,000 apples this year, said that Tennessee labor formerly available could no longer be obtained.

COLUMBUS —(UP)— Ohio gasoline tax revenue in July stood 16.2 per cent below revenues for the same month in 1941, Highway Director Hal G. Sours reported today.

Sours said gasoline receipts for the first seven months of this year were 8.6 per cent below the same period the previous year.

CHAPTER XVII

But Marcia was enthusiastic. "Why Amy!" she declared. "I didn't think! Of course it's just the thing for you! You'd be wonderful! They'd be lucky to get you. Here—you sit down and talk to Dr. Ames. I'll go help Guy with Daphne.

But Amy could not very well sit down and talk to Dr. Ames while he continued to stand, towering above her, staring straight ahead as though Mama Eckert's faded green and gold wall paper was the most interesting thing in his line of vision.

She found herself moistening her lips, then swallowing two or three times in embarrassment. That made her furious! Then she heard herself say in a meek tight little voice, "Would you care to tell me about the position?"

"I would not," he said rudely. "You're either a dumbbell or you're N. G."

Amy glared up at the big blond young doctor. She was no longer furious with herself. She was furious with him. And she wanted to know what sort of name he was calling her."

"What do you mean by N. G.?" she demanded.

"Thought everybody knew," Dr. Ames said carelessly. "When I worked on a newspaper for awhile we used to mark stories that were no good, 'N. G.'."

Her fist clenched and the muscles of her arm contracted. She wanted to slap him hard. But she would have had to stand on tiptoe to do that. And anyway Guy came in just then wheeling Daphne's chair, with Marcia and Nurse Bolton in attendance. And Mama Eckert came in from the kitchen with Papa hobbling after her.

Dr. Ames was no longer an impudent accusing young man; he was a gentle fair-haired giant, who adjusted little crutches to small arms and hands and shoulders and gave Daphne instructions in a slangy, joking manner, as though one's first walk with crutches wasn't a matter of any great moment.

Daphne put on a show as only Daphne could. She hobbled about so vigorously, that she scared them all. She got mad when the crutches wouldn't behave. But she managed a triumphant trip to Papa Eckert's bay window where she sat, princess-like, in the chair reserved for him, one crutch resting across a pile of precious phonograph records.

"This is just like a party, isn't it?" she inquired, beaming upon her anxious admiring audience.

Then without warning her black eyebrows drew together in a furious scowl.

"Where's my mother?" she demanded.

There was a stunned silence. The only person who really looked unconcerned was Mama Eckert—or was it just that her thick glasses gave her eyes that far-away expression, almost as though she were pleased?

* * *

Guy attempted to speak. But Daphne was ahead of him.

"Why isn't she here to see me walk?"

"She couldn't be," Guy began, "she's too far away."

"Why didn't she come?"

"She couldn't. She—she—" After all Guy wasn't omniscient. He hesitated and stammered and finally said the wrong thing.

"I'm here, Daphne," said Guy.

She flung herself into his arms and clung to him sobbing, "I love you. But I want her, too. I want you both!"

Dr. Ames, standing behind Guy, caught Amy's eyes and his glance said, "There—see!"

Perhaps she only thought that because she was seeing—seeing and feeling something she had really known all the time, but had been close to forgetting; something that couldn't be overlooked; Daphne, a living evidence of Guy's and Frani's love, a flesh and blood tie that couldn't be ignored.

Guy couldn't blot out his life with Frani no matter how much he might want to. And she didn't want him to. She was sure of that now.

She was sure of several other things. She was sure she wasn't going to hang around there any longer as a member of Guy's household staff—a pensioner almost since her illness. She was sure that the only job she could get was the one Dr. Ames had just refused her. She was sure of his reason for disliking her; and sure she could do something about it.

Nobody noticed when she left the room. But half an hour later when Dr. Ames closed the Eckerts' door behind him and came down the steps a small figure blocked his path. Silhouetted against the street lamp, that stood directly in front of the house, Amy looked like a pixie in a tall feathered hat.

"May I ride downtown with you?" she said.

He scowled. "I'm not going downtown."

"Then I'll ride wherever you are going."

"I don't take passengers when I'm calling on patients."

"You can this once. It's important to me."

"Anyway my car's not here. It's down at the foot of the hill." He strode around her and walked away.

But she tagged along, taking three steps to his one. "There are things I want to straighten out," she said panting.

"Why should you?"

"I'll tell you that in a minute. But first—" she hesitated, "I don't like the way you've been looking at me!"

"Oh, you don't!" He was deeply sarcastic. "I suppose it does offend your vanity to discover that there is a man who doesn't look upon you with pleasure."

"You're childish and pig headed!" she told the eminent young physician. "And you're a ridiculous, meddlesome busybody!"

He stopped, looking down at her goggle eyed as she went on. "You've decided that I'm having an affair with Guy Dillingham."

"Well, aren't you?"

"Are you having an affair with Frani Dillingham?" she shot back at him."

"Damn, no!"

"Damn no goes for me too!" Dr. Ames was standing with his back to the light now and it shone directly upon her face bringing out the clear little-boy shine of her eyes.

He grunted, then laughed. "And look at the size of you! Well, come on. My car's only half way down the hill. I was exaggerating."

But when they got into the car he made no motion to start it. He leaned back comfortable and began where they had left off.

"Then you're as dumb as I said you were. Why do you hang around his child looking like an angel just when he's had a fight with his wife? He's a swell fellow, I'll admit. But he's human. And you're a regular little package of 'umph'."

"Thank you so much!" she said angrily.

He paid no attention to the interruption. "If you weren't around he'd treat Frani more decently."

"Treat her decently!" It was she who was goggle-eyed now. "It's Frani who hasn't treated him decently. She doesn't love him."

"She's crazy about him. "Why do you suppose she went and got drunk like that?"

"That isn't the usual way to show that you care about a man—and a man of Guy's breeding and fineness—"

"Phoey!" he interrupted. "Fineness! She's just as fine as he is! He got started on the right track when he was little. She didn't. That's the trouble. He was brought up in a hot house and she grew up in an ash pile."

"I wouldn't call Mama Eckert's house an ash pile," she said.

"You know what I meant," he scolded. "I'm thinking about associations. She didn't have advantages. She had rough edges. When it was announced that Guy was to marry her all his friends began talking about how lucky she was. They even suggested it to her after she was married. That Mrs. Ainslee, the one with the eyebrows and cameo—"

"She's nice."

"To you, perhaps. But she snooted Frani. She explained to her with a responsibility she had taken on as Guy's wife, how she must live up to it and so forth! That was why she deserted the Eckerts. She was so in love with Guy she'd have stolen for him!"

"She told him she didn't love him."

"Of course she would. She has pride. When Daphne was born the Ainslee woman told her what an honor it was to be the mother of Guy's child. Nobody gave her credit for anything at all—"

"How do you know all this?" Amy asked suddenly.

"WE'VE CARRIED 75 MILLION* WARTIME TRAVELERS -since Pearl Harbor"

Let This Typical Greyhound Bus Answer From Experience Your Questions About Travel Today

* Have you really carried that many people?

"Well, personally I've carried close to 38,000 passengers in the last nine months—but all of us Greyhound buses together have served more people than ever before, over 75 million travelers."

Just who is traveling today?

"A large share of my passengers are people connected with the war effort—soldiers and sailors, selectees, reservists, war workers, business men and women, farmers, nurses, for instance."

Is your job different now?

"Yes, in a sense. I operate on only the most vital routes today. Once I was a Limited, but such service has been eliminated—along with many extra sections and all duplicated service."

Does a bus save essential war materials?

"I don't want to boast, but I'm using only a fraction as much rubber and fuel per person, per mile, as private cars do—and I'm bettering my old records every day."

When's the best time to travel?

"I can answer that easily—on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, or Thursdays, avoiding the more crowded week-ends. It's also well to skip holidays and other rush periods when possible."

How else can travelers help?

"By accepting occasional inconveniences with a smile! It helps, too, if you cut down on the amount of baggage you take—and if you get tickets and information in advance."

TRAFFIC COURT DOCKET HEAVY

Judge Fines Auto Drivers on Variety of Charges During Session.

Failure to obtain an Ohio driver's license after establishing his residence here last March cost Elwood Stamper, native of Kentucky, $5 and costs in municipal traffic court yesterday.

Stamper was arrested several days ago by state highway patrolmen who charged him with operating an auto without a license. The autoist then failed to have his obsolete Kentucky license on his person.

Morley Storch, Plum Brook Odrnance Works employe at Sandusky, was fined $50 and costs on highway patrol charges of operating an auto with fictitious license plates. Storch told the court he switched plates from a 1937 model to a 1929 model without recording such transfer, explaining he didn't have time to keep his cars in proper legal condition. The court suspended $45 of the penalty.

Turner Johnson, arraigned on the charge of driving under the influence of alcohol, pleaded guilty and was fined $30 and costs and his driving rights were suspended for one year.

Roscoe Anderson, truck driver, paid a fine of $10 and costs for failure to put out warning flares when his vehicle was parked on U. S. Route 30-S several nights ago. Charles Schwartz paid a similar fine on charges of unsafe operation.

Sam Klein, Cleveland, forfeited bond of $25 when he failed to answer charges of operating without a driver's license. Dorothy Roesler, Cleveland, forfeited a $16.30 speeding bond.

Speeding fines of $10 and costs were paid by Robert Stinson, H. M. Touby, Michael J. Ondik and Jack Dean Saylor.

To Congress?

Mrs. Dorothy Kemp Roosevelt, above, sister-in-law of the first lady of the land, has won the Democratic nomination for congress in the 17th Michigan district, which covers part of Detroit. Mrs. Roosevelt is former wife of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt's brother, the late G. Hall Roosevelt.

STEW'S DUE

Caterer Says Goulash and Baked Beans Coming Back.

CHICAGO —(INS)— Those great American institutions, beef stew and baked beans, are due for popular revival, even in the most exclusive restaurants.

At any rate, that is the opinion of Ernest Kuhn, chairman of the recent 41st annual convention of the International Stewards' and Caterers' association.

As the problem of food shortages becomes more acute, plain food simply served, will become more and more patriotic, Kuhn predicted.

SOLDIER NAMED FOR WAR CHIEF

LORAIN—(AP)—With her son in the second World war, Mrs. Louis Szabo today treasures a letter from the nation's first World war president, Woodrow Wilson, in which he consented to the use of his name as the boy's godfather.

The letter 25 years ago from J. P. Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson, said:

"The President asks me to acknowledge receipt of your letter . . . He is very glad to consent to the use of his name as godfather to your babies . . . with best wishes for the health and happiness of the little men, believe me, sincerely yours."

Albert Woodrow Wilson Kender, the son, today is an army private.

SCRAPS IDEA

Judge Dislikes Using Fines To Buy Cigarets.

CLEVELAND — (U.P.) — A new method of fining drunks ended in a squabble between two police judges here.

Municipal Judge Lewis Drucker, substituting in police court for Police Judge Joseph Silbert, inaugurated a scheme whereby persons charged with intoxication would pay fines of cartons of cigarets instead of cash.

The idea was that the cartons be turned over to the U. S. O., who would give them to servicemen. Judge Silbert came back from his vacation, however, and scrapped the innovation.

"I'm not opposed to donating to the U. S. O.," he explained, "but I am opposed to donating the taxpayers' money to it."

HOT TIRE BULLETINS ISSUED

HOLLYWOOD, Cal. — (U.P.) — Chief of Police C. B. Horrall has streamlined the efficiency of his department by issuing daily "hot tire" bulletins the same as is done for stolen "hot cars."

ADMIRAL KING, TIED TO DESK, SLEEPS AT SEA

Makes Home Aboard Small Navy Vessel; Rides, Walks To Work Every Day.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON — Although he has been moored to a desk in the navy department for more than eight months, Admira' Ernest J. King, commander-in-chief of the U. S. fleet, is anything but a swivel-chair admiral

Denied, by necessity, of the opportunity to go to sea, King has sought to maintain the sea-going atmosphere by making his home aboard a small naval vessel, the converted yacht Dauntless.

The Dauntless, which rarely leaves her berth at the Washington navy yard, is his flagship.

The tall, grim-visaged admiral, a native of Lorain, Ohio, maintains a residence in the capital. His family lives there, but they see him only a few times a week. He always sleeps aboard his ship.

"As the commander-in-chief of the fleet," an aid said today, "he wants his flag to fly on a ship of the fleet."

King's staff lives aboard the ship with him and they are always available for conferences during the night.

The admiral's aid gave the United Press an account of a typical day in the life of the fleet's commander-in-chief.

At 7 a. m. sharp, he gets out of bed, exercises, dresses and takes a few turns around the deck of his ship. He breakfasts at 7:30 a. m. and leaves ship immediately after 8 a. m. About a mile from his office he leaves his car and walks the rest of the way to work.

Walking, incidentally, is the only exercise he can get. He gave up golf, his favorite sport, for the duration.

In his office, he first reads all the important dispatches that have come in during the night. These are usually messages that do not require immediate action. He is notified during the night if any urgent dispatches arrive.

Then he checks the routing of dispatches to various staff members for action; dictates letters and memoranda. His letters and messages are terse, factual.

At 9:30 a. m., he attends a daily conference with Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox and around 10.15 begins to see callers—representatives of foreign governments, Allied and U. S. naval officers, including various navy bureau chiefs and others in key positions.

Ordinarily, before luncheon at 12-45, he confers with various of his staff officers on operations, planning and fleet readiness.

He has lunch in his mess room in the navy building in the company of his staff officers. His lunch is always light, usually soup and a salad.

During the afternoon, he has appointments with members of congress, diplomatic officials, and foreign and U. S. naval officers

He deviates from this schedule on Tuesday and Friday afternoons. On Tuesday, he meets at 2 p. m. with the joint chiefs of staff—Gen. George C. Marshall, Lt. Gen. Henry H. Arnold and Admiral William D. Leahy, the president's personal chief of staff.

At these meetings, U. S. strategy is discussed. On Friday at 2:30 p m. United Nations' strategy is canvassed with the combined U. S.-British chiefs of staff.

On Wednesday, King tries to get away from his desk earlier than usual—which is around 6 p. m., on normal days—to exercise. He indulges in long walks, nothing else. King feels the need for exercise because he is in his office seven days a week. He walks part of the way home each evening.

He dines aboard his flagship punctually at 7.30 p. m, with members of his staff. As soon as it becomes dark, he attends shipboard movies and retires.

His social activities are very restricted. Twice a week he dines at home with his family but otherwise attends only those social functions which have an international military significance.

In his job, he must know what is going on at sea at all times but he has made it a practice not to address inquiries to commanders while an operation is in progress. "He has enough confidence in his commanders or they would not be where they are, said the admiral's aid.

FIGHT FIRES

ALMA, Cal. —(U.P.)— For the first time in the history of the State Forestry Service, the forest fire fighting crew stationed here is to be composed entirely of women.

The crew will consist of a woman foreman, a woman truck driver, women fire fighters and a woman cook.

New Rubber Czar on Job

William Jeffers (right), newly-appointed rubber czar, is seen in his Washington office with War Production Chief Donald Nelson as the two discuss problems relating to the nation's rubber situation. In Jeffers' first public statement he appealed to everyone who owns car or truck tires to remember that he is the custodian of a material "more precious than gold."

Illness Fatal to Mifflin Native At Ashland Home

ASHLAND—Mrs. M. H. Echelberger, 66, died at 4:15 p. m. Wednesday at her home here. She had been ill since Sept. 4.

A lifelong resident of Ashland county, Mrs. Echelberger was born Feb. 4, 1876, in Mifflin. Her marriage to M. H. Echelberger took place in October, 1895, and she had lived in Ashland since 1918.

She was a member of the Mifflin Lutheran church and had been a member of the South Claremont club for 22 years.

In addition to her husband she is survived by one son, James W., and three daughters, Mrs. G. H. Mansfield, Mrs. Harold L. Calhoun and Mrs. Merle Hawkes, all of Ashland; two grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. Edward Beck of Tiffin.

The body is at the Denbow-Bear funeral home where services will be conducted Friday at 3:30 p. m. by Rev. Eugene Rush of Delaware. Burial will be made in Hayesville cemetery

CIRCLE MEETS

GALION—The Pythian Sisters' Sewing circle met at the home of Mrs. George Cronenwett Wednesday evening.

ARM WOUNDED

GALION — Ray Miller, West Point road, escaped with a flesh wound on his upper left arm when his gun went off accidentally as he was climbing a fence. He was brought to the Galion City hospital, where he was given medical treatment.

Pitfalls of Love

(A sequel to Marriage Meddlers)
By ADELE GARRISON

"I'm sure she won't, dear boy," I told Ronald. "Now, if you'll go along with Uncle Dicky, he'll show you which door you are to guard."

"Just a second!" Dicky said. "I hear old Harry coming back."

"Your hunch was right, Lady Fair," Harry said, "however you got it. But what a time I had getting it out of him! Lil sure must have turned on the well-known charm. Finally he came through."

My fingernails cut into my palms as I wondered if he would ever get to the point.

"Lil's not out of the house yet," he said, "but expects to get out sometime between now and daylight. She told the guard she and a young woman staying here must go out, but would be gone less than a quarter of an hour, and that he was to say nothing to anyone else, even if questioned. But I think he was relieved to have me take the decision out of his hands. I told him the two women would never get as far as the front steps."

"I'm afraid this is your job, Lady Fair," he said, his hand on my shoulder.

"I don't want Lil to get as far as that guard and find out I questioned him about her," he said.

"So," Harry went on, "if you can possibly flag her, and make her see reason—"

Ronald Distressed.

"I'll see her at once," I said. "But I must see her alone. And Carolyn ought not to stay here any longer."

"Of course she mustn't stay," Ronald groaned. "Oh God! to think my little sister—"

"Don't take it so much to heart, lad!" Dicky said. "She's simply wound up in a melodramatic snarl, and it will take some time to get her untangled. Come on down stairs with me to guard the doors, and put everything else out of your mind. I suppose you'll want old Harry up here?" he finished, turning to me.

"Indeed, yes," I answered, "if he can stay up here."

"Then we'll beat it downstairs," Dicky said. "If you need us give a yell, and we'll flash you an S.O.S. if we have to have any assistance. I'd like to have the special job of —Never mind; come along Ronald."

Madge Investigates.

I knew the sentence he had so abruptly checked would have been, "I'd like to have the special job of third-degreeing little Carol."

As he and Ronald went down the stairs I turned to Miss Whitlock.

"I'm going to ask Mrs. Underwood to come over to her husband's room," I said. "Will you stay in her suite and take care of Carolyn?"

"With pleasure," she returned grimly. Then I went to Lillian's door and knocked twice. There was no answer, so I opened the door and went in, Miss Whitlock close behind me.

Something about a huddled form in Lillian's bed made me rush forward to put a hand on its shoulder. Then, despairingly, I turned back to the nurse.

"She's gone," I said. "This is a dummy."

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay
"The Authority on Authorities"

UNSOUND TRUMP SUITS

If your side has only seven trumps—especially with only a four-card suit opposite three—you are in a pretty mean situation. Not only is there danger that the longer hand may have to ruff early, and so be cut down to only three while one defender has four, but there is the extra danger that they may take an unpleasant number of tricks by ruffing with their trumps, even if each has exactly three. At times, you have to strive with such a trump suit, but it will pay you to pick some other declaration, generally, if you can find a sound one.

	♠ A K Q 6 5 ♥ 10 7 6 ♦ A 9 7 ♣ 9 6
♠ J 9 7 4 ♥ J 9 4 ♦ 6 5 4 ♣ J 3 2	N W E S	♠ 8 3 ♥ K Q 3 ♦ K J 10 3 ♣ A Q 10 4
	♠ 10 2 ♥ A 8 5 2 ♦ Q 8 2 ♣ K 8 7 5

(Dealer: East. North-South vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
1 ♦	Pass	Pass	1 ♠
Dbl	Pass	2 ♦

Looking at that hand, you would hardly guess that North and South would get four tricks out of their trump holding, but they did. Private Phil Abramsohn of the United States Army, sitting South, had as his partner in the North, Tobias Stone, one of New York's most brilliant young players, and they were taking part in the recent Nationals.

Naturally, the soldier led the 10 of his mate's spades. After the K and A won, the Q was ruffed by East's diamond 10 and over-ruffed by the Army man's Q. The heart A and 2 to the J put declarer into dummy, whence he sent through the club J to the K. Another heart, to the K, made declarer lead. He picked the trump K to the A, and North fired back a low spade toward the J. East discarded a good club, and the diamond 8 scored.

Next a club made East lead again. He had two trumps and a good club. He led the diamond J, hoping to drop the two missing ones, but North had both. He scored one on the twelfth trick, ruffing the club Q, and gave East the last trick with a spade to the diamond 3. The defenders put him down three, getting regular trump tricks with the A and 9, ruffs with the Q and 8, two spade tricks and one each in the other two suits.

After South opens this deal with 1-Heart, what good reason might North have, in a match-point pair tournament, for failing to raise the suit with four trumps and preferring a bid of 1-Spade instead?

Without Painful Backache
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 2 pints a day.
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills

HOROSCOPE
FOR FRIDAY, SEPT. 18
Difficulty and confusion may prevail on this day, although it may be particularly lively and intriguing. There may be peculiar problems or erratic and unpredictable situations to unravel, by clear thinking, deliberate and decisive action and not tempest, turbulence and impetuosity. Avoid excitement, rash and violent scenes and passionate behavior; don't be swept off the balance by sudden and singular situations. The social, domestic, and emotional life as well as business interests are involved.
Those whose birthday it is may encounter a year of excitement, strange and intriguing situations to baffle the good judgment and decisive and self-contained behavior. Clamor, violent, impetuous and wild actions may defeat the possibility of benefit, gain and self-satisfaction. All this may affect the business as well as the private and emotional affiliations.
A child born on this day may have some erratic, singular and unfathomable traits of character, although affectionate, sociable and kindly.

HELPS REJECTS ENTER SERVICE

Detroit Legionnaire Operates Rehabilitation Agency For Selectees.

(By United Press)

DETROIT—More than 500 soldiers are now serving in the Army and Marine Corps because one man's war effort made it possible for them to pass their physical examinations after failing the first time.

This service, by which applicants rejected for minor defects are rehabilitated for the armed services, was started in November, 1941, by William H. Malloy, child welfare chairman of American Legion Post No. 327.

Malloy obtained the idea for his rehabilitation service when he read newspaper stories that there were no such facilities available for men who had been turned down.

Recruiting offices promised to send him men who had been rejected for the services. Malloy arranged to have them treated, if they were without funds, at city and community fund agencies.

Doctors and dentists who were members of the Legion volunteered their services, and other agencies furnished dental work and glasses at cost.

The only thing Malloy wants for his work is more of it.

"I'd like more doctors and dentists to volunteer their help," he said.

Congress Frowns on M'Nutt Proposal

BROADWAY

—By Dorothy Kilgallen

Broadway Bulletin Board.

Dorothy Gish of the famous sisters, and Louis Calhern, the new papa of "Life With Father," are sniffing orange blossoms. He's a former mate of Ilka Chase . . .

Kilgallen

Victor Mature is surprising Hollywood (and Rita Hayworth) by dating K. T. Stevens, who used to be exclusively Al Vanderbilt's filly.

Spencer Tracy and George Murphy head for Washington next week to see about U. S. uniforms . . . Bea Palmer, original queen of the shimmy, is a bride again. The groom is a soldier boy at a nearby camp—her third husband.

Georgie Jessel's comedy routine in "Show Time," when it opens here will be an altered version of what he did on the west coast. Because of his recent divorce, Jessel's monologue on his married life has been completely revised.

The cinema colony's latest feud stars, Loretta Young and Lana Turner—and it is supposed to be over who's doing the most for Uncle Sam and the boys, or something equally silly.

The son of one of Hollywood's biggest film moguls, currently stationed at the Astoria, L. I. Signal Corps post, eloped with a Brooklyn girl last week. It won't be announced until he gets his family's okay.

When his divorce becomes final, Peter Lorre will waltz down the aisle with Karen Verne of the flickers . . . Monte Proser, the Copacabana host, goes into the amry as a private.

Gloria Drum, niece of General Hugh Drum, and Ty Kearney, dancer in the revue at La Conga, are twitterpated . . . Fannie Ward, the perennial glamor girl, has asked the press services to stop using those old pictures of her, taken when she was young. She's sending them recent ones—in which she looked about 18!

Edward Duryea Dowling has received a captaincy in the army... Frank Fay, the comic, and Betty Keane, the dancer, are continuing their California romance in Gotham.

Simone Simon is Betty Grable's new rival for George Raft's affections . . . Broadway hears bright reports on "Vickie," the new comedy now out-of-towning in Washington. But it'll make the gals in uniform pink-cheeked.

Their friends expect Ella Logan and Fred Finklehoffe to marry this week—but you've heard that before, haven't you? . . . Sid Slate, of the Slate Brothers' act, is Lenore Lemmon's new peach . . . For the first time in Broadway history, there's an acute shortage of both chorines and hatcheck girls. The experts attribute it to defense jobs and army marriages.

"This Is the Army" will cut short its cross-country tour to go to Hollywood to make the picture version of the show. The road tour will be resumed after the filming.

Maria Harrington, the glamor girl, is tossing over cafe society to go to secretarial school. She wants to prepare for a war job . . . William Haines, one-time star of silent pictures and now the cinema colony's favorite interior decorator, is about to be inducted into the army.

Gloria Hope is weighing marriage proposals from four members of the Mexican embassy staff . . . Choo Choo Johnson and Jinx Falkenburg have a rival in the daffy-names sweepstakes. She's a "Miss Rheingold" entrant—Hex Jennings of Tennessee.

HOLLYWOOD

—By Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD — Monty Woolley is leaving us. He has bought a modest five-room brick house in Saratoga Springs, N. Y., his old home town, and will go there when he finishes "Life Begins at 8:30" to supervise redecorating and furnishing.

Coons

Monty recently turned 54. "It's about time," he said, "I gave some thought to having a permanent home." He'll commute to Hollywood or New York for screen or stage calls as they come.

The little house is, in a way, an expression of the bearded actor's chronic disdain for Hollywood lavishness. "It's inexpensive and just what I want. No swimming pool, no tennis or badminton court, not even a rumpus room. In fact, it hasn't a garage. When and if the tire and gas situation becomes better, I may build one—a one-car garage—if I can figure out how to make space for it and a driveway."

THERE'S a souvenir Monty ought to take along. It's a painting from the M-G-M prop shop, a painting that stands for the start of Monty's movie career. Here's how:

In 1937 Woolley was ready to shave his beard, stand on his head, or dance in blackface, anything for a call to work at his usual $35 a day. One day Director George Fitzmaurice had a bit for him in "Live, Love and Learn." Monty arrived on the set to learn that the bit had been cut out.

That was when Robert Benchley and Bob Montgomery, star of the picture, put in their oars. The setting was an art store and why not, suggested the two Bobs in Monty's behalf, have Monty appear as a customer? Monty would be looking at a picture, and Montgomery, from above, would mistake him for a bill collector and accidentally drop a vase. The director agreed, Monty was in — and the scene of Monty getting conked with the objet d'art was funny enough to sustain him in many more bits and parts until his big chance came in "The Man Who Came to Dinner."

GINNY SIMMS, star of her own air show now, has a nice new home in the valley, but Ginny's admirers looking for dates have been stymied. Ginny ran into war priorities when she applied for a telephone installation. . . .

FILM CAPITAL TOPS U. S. PAY RECORDS AGAIN

Mayer Draws $704,000 Salary To Lead Country For 4th Consecutive Year.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON — The treasury disclosed today that fabled Hollywood was tops on the national salary list again in 1941, and placed five men among the highest 10 in the United States.

At the top of the treasury's listing was Louis B. Mayer, vice-president in charge of production at Loew's Inc., whose stipend was $704,425. He has led the national parade for four straight years.

The treasury list, which in most instances duplicated figures previously issued by the securities and exchange commission, covered salaries and compensations of more than $75,000 paid by corporations in the calendar year of 1940 or in business fiscal years covering part of 1940 and part of 1941.

Biggest total shown for any woman was $362,500 for screen star Irene Dunn, but this was over a 22-month period, from Jan. 1, 1940, to Oct. 31, 1941. She worked for three different studios, each of which submitted its reports on different fiscal-year bases, and her total could not be compared with 12-month figures reported for most individuals.

The income of such notables as Henry Ford and John D. Roskefeller, jr., did not show on the treasury breakdown, since such wealthy men receive most of their money from investments. The treasury reported only salaries, bonuses and commissions for personal services.

All in all, the treasury listed 775 persons who received $70,000 or more and 62 who received more than $200,000. Following Mayer were, in this order: Thomas J. Watson, president of International Business Machines, Inc., $546,294.

Eugene G. Grace, president, Bethlehem Steel Corp., $478,144.

George W. Hill, president, American Tobacco company, $456,415.

Bing Crosby, screen star, $302,314.81 from Paramount Pictures, Inc., and $150,000 from Universal Pictures, for a total of $452,314.

Other salaries included:

General Motors, Inc.—William S. Knudsen, president, $219,055; Alfred P. Sloan, board chairman, $200,500; Charles F. Kettering, research, $248,955.

15 INJURED IN BLAST AT PLANT

One-Story Arms Plant Blown Up at New Haven; Seven Women Are Hurt.

(By International News Service)

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Fifteen persons, seven of them women, were injured just five minutes before midnight last night when a one-story building at the plant of the Winchester Repeating Arms division of the Western Cartridge company was blown to bits by an explosion which rocked New Haven.

Six of those hurt were said to be in critical condition, one being given little chance to live.

(The explosives safety branch of the ordnance department in Chicago announced that 16 persons had been hurt, seven of them seriously.)

First aid and disaster units rushed to the scene and aided city police and fire departments in rescue work. All of those injured were hospitalized.

The plant is located on Winchester avenue, about a mile from the center of town, and covers a large area. Thousands of persons who were still in the downtown section at the hour of the explosion, rushed to the scene and hampered rescue work. Police lines were finally established to hold the crowds back.

Only one building of the plant was affected, company officials announced and production in other departments continued without interruption.

Authorities began an immediate investigation of the accident, cause of which was undetermined.

SOAP COUPONS IN NEWS AD

War Changes Method of House To House Distribution.

Used to be that housewives obtained soap coupons by answering the doorbell and hearing the advertising story of the house-to-house distributor. War has changed that.

Today The News-Journal carries in an advertisement for the Proctor and Gamble company a money-saving coupon on Oxydol. Readers may clip the coupon and present it to their grocer for redemption. Thus the manufacturer maintains his coverage of the community. The newspaper takes the place of a large crew of workers.

A large number of Mansfield grocers are recognizing this change from established business practice to encourage housewives to clip and use the coupon.

O. K. PETITION

Commissioners Approve Construction of Ditch Project.

County commissioners yesterday approved a petition for construction of the Touby ditch in Washington township following a public hearing at the courthouse.

Commissioners ordered a survey of the proposed improvement by County Engineer Howard Sword and the preparation of a cost estimate. The ditch would empty into the Clear Fork creek.

GABLE AN UPPER CLASSMAN IN SCHOOL, LIKES ARMY LIFE

(By International News Service)

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—His face a chestnut brown and with stomach flat as an ironing board, movie star Clark Gable today was graduated into the select circle of upper classmen at the army air forces officer candidate school.

By completing the rigorous training program imposed on members of the lower class, Officer Candidate Gable has earned a privilege much-coveted by the students — the right to go to the movies during off-duty hours.

It has been a hard pull for Hollywood's No. 1 glamour man, for he entered school ten days late. But his superior officers have nothing but praise for the way the actor has applied himself to the intensive military, academic and physical training courses that make this Miami Beach institution a model of West Point.

From Colonel Charles H. McNair, director of the school, came the accolade that Gable is proving himself to be a good soldier.

"He has been shown no special consideration, and has asked for none," Col. McNair said. "He has caught up with his classwork and he has proved himself to be an efficient soldier."

Among his classmates, Gable also rates ace high. Already he has been named to the honor committee which administers and enforces the rules of conduct. He also is in line for one of the student officer posts in his squadron.

Speaking for himself, Gable says he really likes the sweat and toil of becoming a streamlined officer.

"I'm getting more thrill out of this than anything I've ever done in my life," he asserted.

LOWER LINE

City Drops Water Pipe For Rocky Fork Dredging.

Dredging of Rocky Fork creek as part of the flood control plan of the Mansfield Conservancy board necessitates lowering of a six-inch water main in the vicinity of Orange street, Waterworks Supt. O. C. Kalbfleisch said today.

Workmen are constructing a cofferdam across the channel to avoid interruption of water service to consumers. The line will be lowered approximately 3½ feet. At present the main is 18 inches under the bed of the creek which is being scooped out three to four feet below its old level to insure a greater volume and more rapid drainage of a large industrial area.

Richland county, the city and the conservancy board are co-operating in the project which is being carried on by the R. O. Darling and Sons company.

VOTE TO END STRIKE

AKRON —(AP)— Strikers at the Barberton plant of the Pittsburgh Valve and Fitting Corp. voted to return to work after a disagreement over wages and piece rates was certified to the War Labor board.

NO NEW ACTION NEEDED ON JOB

No further action by council will be necessary, beyond approval of a petition submitted today to City Clerk Robert Black, for decreasing the width of pavement on East Raleigh avenue, in the opinion of city officials.

An effort was made last week to have special session of council amend an ordinance establishing a 30-foot pavement to provide for a 28-foot driveway. City Solicitor Leslie K. Wagner held that such action was unnecessary.

Today George C. Kyle, member-at-large, filed a petitioned signed by owners of 30 pieces of property abutting the avenue consenting to the change being made by City Engineer W. C. Statler.

Up and Down THE STREET

The "Victory honk" for tire torturers is recommended to Mansfield motorists by the National safety council as a way of cooling out the highway hotshot. While you're driving at a patriotic 35 or 40-mile speed and another driver whizzes by you give him three short honks and one long one on your horn—Morse code for "V"—the council urges as a means of making the voluntary rationing violator conscious of his misdeed. "The motorist who squeals his tires at corners and specializes in jackrabbit starts and bronco stops will soon catch on to your speed warning "V rebuke" the safety organization declares, and he'll soon fall in line with consequent longer-lived rubber and fewer crashes.

Staff Sgt. John C. Franklin, Mansfielder attached to the 18th Army Air force glider training at Municipal airport, Mobile, Ala., got an early start whisking in and out among the clouds. He's a nephew of Mansfield airport manager James R. (Bud) Harrington and he was going aloft at the age of 16. Today, however, he has wings in his own right. He called his mother, Mrs. Walter E. Hahne, 178 Carpenter road, this morning from Mobile to announce that he's now a full-fledged glider pilot.

The first few days of the new school term have been so quiet that Attendance Officers John H. Eiseman in the city and Harry J. Sir Louis in the county don't know what to make of it. Although the officers expected trouble with pupils of high school age who might want to miss school to work, the complaints have been fewer than usual. "It's too good to last, and we are sure something is going to break loose one of these days," Eiseman said.

LATE PAYDAY

City Workers to Get Checks By Tomorrow Night.

Postponed payday for the first half of September is in prospect for some city employes, according to City Auditor Paul L. Kelley who, up to this morning, had no approved payrolls submitted from the office of Service Director Fred B. Wolff.

Director Wolff returned to his duties this morning following a two-day hunting leave and immediately began work on payrolls submitted by department heads.

According to Kelley, the completed rolls must go to the city civil service commission for certification to his office and to City Treasurer Earl K. Trolli before checks can be issued.

"If all goes well, everyone will get their pay by tomorrow night," Kelley said.

NATIONAL JOB CONTROL PLAN HEARD COOLLY

House Labor Committee Head Calls Director's Idea Much Premature.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON—The proposal of Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the war manpower commission, that the government be given power to control the jobs of every person in the nation, met a cool reception today in congress which would have to vote such authority before it could be exercised.

McNutt's statement that enactment of a "national service" law is "inevitable" and his bid to direct the far-reaching program, appeared to disturb most members of congress and drew criticism from not a few. Bulk of the opposition seemed to hinge on the need for vesting such sweeping power in Washington, even in time of war.

Chairman Mary T. Norton (D., N. J.), of the house labor committee, expressed belief that McNutt's proposal was "decidedly premature."

"I don't think we have reached that stage yet and I woud have to know a lot more about it than I do now to favor a program of that nature," Mrs. Norton asserted.

Rep. Ramspeck of Georgia, ranking Democrat on the labor committee, declared that he was opposed to placing "that much power in anyone."

"If it becomes necessary to take a step like that, then I favor going back to the American Legion's old 'universal service' act whereby everybody would automatically be drafted by the army and navy, assigned to their jobs and be paid alike and treated alike," Ramspeck said.

There had been rumblings in Washington for several weeks that a national service program was in the making, but McNutt—testifying yesterday before the Tolan labor migration committee—became the first high government official to advance it publicly.

Whether he spoke with White House approval or not was a matter for conjecture, but the concensus appeared to be that McNutt would not have got himself "out on such a limb" unless he was fairly sure of his position.

The former governor of Indiana was most emphatic in his testimony that centralized control of manpower must come and he made it plain he thought the power that a national service act would entail should be vested in his manpower commission.

No More 'Tick' For Soldiers at U. S. Army Posts

WASHINGTON —(AP)— After a preliminary test, the war department decreed today a strictly cash policy for all soldiers at army posts in the continental United States.

Secretary Stimson announced the new order which abolishes credit privileges for personal purchases enjoyed by soldiers for decades.

The department said the new policy would save bookkeeping, further efforts to reduce credit buying and expressed belief also it would "inculcate the habits of thirst in the soldier."

The order becomes effective Nov. 1 at all army posts in the United States. Local commanders will decide whether to apply it at posts abroad. The preliminary test has been in progress at Fort Bragg, N. C., since August 1.

NOW REGGIE'S ARMY CHARACTER

KNOLLWOOD FIELD, N. C.—(UNS)—The adventures of a cartoon character named Reggie, a lovable little soldier with unruly black hair, are being featured in Army Air Forces post papers throughout the nation as part of the AAF safety program.

Reggie is the brain child of Corporal William Lent of the Chanute Field, Ill., station.

Reggie made his first appearance in the Chanute Field Wings and attracted so much attention that Corporal Lent was asked to draw the national safety program series.

Venezuela Cops Seek Robber Of Aladdin's Lamp

CARACAS —(UNS)— Police of Venezuela are looking for a man who has made pilfering history. They will recognize him by the 1,500 pound replica of Aladdin's Lamp which he removed from the center arch of the Maracay Theater in Maracay.

The showplace of South America when Juan Vincent Gomez ruled this country, the theater in recent years has been a moving picture house. Its glory was the great chandelier, valued at 100,000 bolivares ($30,000), which was unveiled in the Caracas Theater on the occasion of the 100th anniversary of the death of Simon Bolivar in 1930. When the Maracay theater was built a few years after it was transferred.

Army Kitchen Ready to Cater For All Palates

SALT LAKE CITY —(AP)— If all the generals of the United Nations dropped in for dinner at the Salt Lake army air base they probably would be able to get their favorite dishes promptly. For the secretary of the officers' mess, 2nd Lt. Herbert E. Frazer, is accustomed to catering to the eating fancies of important people.

He used to be maitre d'hotel at the British Colonial hotel in Nassau, B W I, and has held administrative posts at the Waldorf-Astoria and Sagamore hotels in New York, the Carmel (N Y) Country Club and elsewhere.

At the British Colonial he directed the banquet given in January, 1937 for the Duke and Duchess of Kent.

Lt. Frazer believes the problems of an officers' mess are hardly less difficult than those of a large hotel. Officers of the air corps have a habit of dropping in from the four corners of the country at all hours of the day and night

"Fifty to a hundred officers may appear suddenly with no advance warning All are hungry and need attention It's my job to see that they get what they want," Frazer says

THAT'S CHARITY

HOLLYWOOD, Cal.—(U.P.)—Ebenezer Meshach has both a name and a heart. When he had $26.50 more than he needed he sent it to the County Charities office to be spent where it would do the most good.

The board of supervisors deposited it in the general fund where it will purchase food and clothing for the needy. The board was unable to thank Ebenezer because he gave no address.

POPULARITY GROWS

LOS ANGELES —(U.P.)— Forty different groups in the city have petitioned the city council to name 40 different streets after Gen. MacArthur.

DELICIOUS VITAMINS!

Yours in Oranges

THE NATURAL WAY

You know you like oranges! But do you know how they help you get the vitamins and minerals you need?

They're first in vitamin C. And they also contain vitamins A, B_1 and G; calcium and other minerals.

DON'T TAKE A CHANCE

You don't "store up" vitamin C, so you need it every day. Without plenty of citrus fruits, the chances are you won't get enough to feel and do your best.

Sport Podge

by REX HESS

"We haven't got the backfield power this season to punch our way down the field when we run into some heavy lines," Coach Paul Snyder of the Mansfield high school Tygers told the crowd of nearly a thousand fans last night at the team introduction ceremonies at Stadium field.

"So we're going to have to use a lot of trick stuff, and deception, and forward passing to open up the opposing lines."

And then the Tygers gave the fans some idea of what Snyder had been talking about.

After walking through several plays, with Snyder explaining the blocking assignments, the Tygers speeded up their action, "going over that play again."

And all the while Snyder was telling the crowd: "Watch that ball. See if you can tell who has the ball."

If there was anyone in the crowd who successfully tagged the ball carrier on each and every play, or even a majority of plays, I have yet to hear of it.

A handy lot of lads at legerdemain with the leather are these fast backfield Tygers of 1942.

* * *

I was sitting there with Ralph "Jake" Stowell, veteran football official who hung up his spikes just three years ago, and with Bill Keefe, who still does a lot of officiating.

And none of us could follow the ball with any degree of success.

Which led Keefe into a long argument with Coach Snyder after the practice session, Keefe maintaining that visiting teams could demand a different colored ball to give contrast to the Tyger's new, shiny and resplendent golden uniforms.

* * *

"These uniforms are the same color as those of Minnesota's Golden Gophers," Snyder told him. "They're the same color as those worn by Springfield last year. And we have big white numbers covering the front of the jerseys to give contrast to the ball."

But truth to tell, those Tygers cover ball and numbers so quickly and completely, you just can't find them.

* * *

Whether Akron West's Cowboys will be able to solve the new Tyger offense is something we'll learn tomorrow night when the first game of the season will be played at Stadium field.

Yankees Rule As Favorites

Mental and Physical Condition Studied.

NEW YORK —(INS)— An angle on the world series that must be brought out, dusted off and presented at about this time each year has to do with the relative mental and physical condition of the two clubs as a result of the pennant races. The question almost invariably involved whenever the New York Yankees are in the so-called fall classic is whether they are in better shape for the post-season tussle than the opposition because the Yanks generally clinch their pennant early—as they did again this year—whereas the National league race goes right on down to the wire as it threatens to do once again.

You can, with a little diligent searching, find astute gentlemen who will tell you that the National leaguers should be sharper because they roll into the series under the momentum that carried them to the league championship. But you also will encounter the others who insist that the Yank's record proves a club is better for a little rest, a spell of coasting between pennant-clinching and opening of the series hostilities.

* * *

The Yankees in any case will be fairly long priced favorites over the Cardinals and at still longer odds if the Dodgers happetn to come through in spite of everything. The Yanks habitually in recent years sew up their pennant early and the world series pretty much the same way.

They haven't lost a series since 1926 when the Cards took them in seven games. Since then they have won eight.

A LEAGUE MEETS

Bowlers of the City "A" league will hold a final meeting tonight at 8 o'clock before opening their season on the lanes. All team captains, sponsors, and any bowlers interested in performing in the league are urged to be present.

Sked Runs Out for Dodgers

Each Day Brings Cards Closer to Championship.

By SID FEDER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

FERDINAND the figger filbert popped out of his hole today, right smack into the National league lawn party, and threw such a scare into the folks in Brooklyn they all but leaped over the garden wall.

Ferdinand the filbert, in case you've forgotten him, is the little guy with an adding machine for a head and a percentage table for a heart, and when he starts counting over you—well, pal, it may not be deadly, but it's no vitamin tablet.

And the way Ferdie has it figured out right now, what with the St. Louis Cardinals two games in front of the Bums and moving right along, the layout looks tough for the Daffiness Boys.

Naturally, you'll point out that the Brooklyns broke out of their hitting slump yesterday with a 19-hit bombardment that tore the feeble Pittsburgh Pirates apart 10-3 in a game marked by a brawl in the stands among some fans, a couple of ushers and Dixie Walker and Mickey Owen. No one was "hoit."

But the Cards bowled over Boston's not-so-Braves 6-2 at the same time and are still in there winning.

And those festivities caused Ferdinand to point out that if the Cardinals should even lose four of their remaining nine games, the Dodgers would have to take nine of 11 to win. Or, the Cards can even go under the .500 mark—say win four and lose five—and in that case, the Gowanus Gallants would have to grab eight and lose only three. And if St. Loo should fall completely apart and drop six out of nine, Durocher's darlings still would need seven of 11.

However, the Dodgers are still better than a hundred-to-one shot. Certainly, the manner in which they came back yesterday proved that. Dolph Camilli connected for two home runs and two singles and knocked five runs and every one in the lineup collected at least one hit to back up Whit Wyatt's steady elbowing.

Meanwhile, the Cards combed Jim Tobin for only nine hits, but they put five of them together for a winning four-run rally in the sixth. Ernie White didn't need much to work on, and for a guy who's been wailing lately about a sore arm, the southpaw looked about as injured as Whirlaway.

The pitching job of the day, however, was turned in by Marv Breuer in twirling the New York Yankees to a 5-1 win over the Detroit Tigers. For seven innings he had a no-hitter and he wound up by giving up only two.

Paul Derringer tossed a four-hitter that gave the Cincinnati Reds a 3-1 decision over the Giants.

The Chicago Cubs climbed over the Pirates in the National league's fifth place by splitting a twin bill with the Phillies, losing the first 3-1 to Johnny Podgajny and taking the nightcap 4-1 behind Hiram Bithorn.

Johnny Niggeling whitewashed the Boston Red Sox with seven hits for a 3-0 St. Louis Browns' victory, Jim Bagby tossed a five-hitter for his 16th win as the Indians beat the Senators 5-1, and the Philadelphia Athletics defeated the Chicago White Sox 4-2.

CARDINALS LIMIT DUCATS FOR SERIES

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—Figuring on a brisk demand for world series tickets if they win the national league pennant, the Cardinals have established a two-to-the-customer limit for reserved seats. Mail applications for grandstand seats will be accepted beginning today, but none will be made for more than two blocks of tickets. As usual, tickets will be sold only in blocks of three, covering the three games to be played here. All box seats already have been sold to holders of season boxes.

Indians End Losing Streak

Beat Washington, 5-1, After Six Defeats.

CLEVELAND —(INS)— Fortified with a victory over the Washington Senators, the Cleveland Indians are scheduled to close their series with the Nationals today with Mel Harder assuming the mound assignment for the Tribe to oppose Ray Scarborough.

The Redskins' 5 to 1 decision over the Capitol club yesterday ended a six-game losing streak for the Tribe and brought Jim Bagby's total victories for the 1942 season to 16 games.

The Indians opened the scoring in the third frame by putting three runs over after two men had been counted out. Orris Hockett went to first on a walk and scored on a double by Ken Keltner. On the next pitch, Jeff Heath rapped a single to bring Keltner in. Heath crossed the plate when Les Fleming's pop fly got away from Ellis Clary for a double.

Jim Hegan made first on a single in the seventh, reached second on a steal and came home on a sacrifice by Bagby and a single by Hockett.

In the eighth inning, Heath knocked out a homer to end the Tribe's scoring for the day. The only run scored by the Senators came in the final frame.

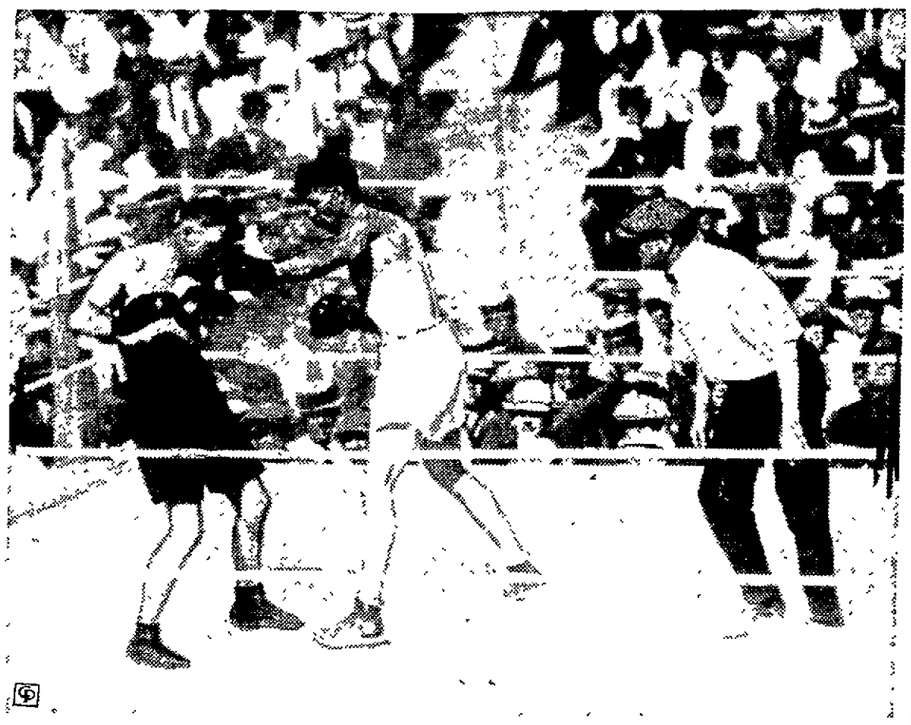
This Was Last Daytime Heavy Title Bout



When Sergeant Joe Louis and Private Billy Conn meet in New York the afternoon of Columbus day, Oct. 12, it will be the first heavyweight title bout held in the daytime since Jack Dempsey defended his crown by winning a 15-round decision over Tommy Gibbons at Shelby, Mont., July 4, 1923. That bout is pictured above. Dempsey, seen in center, weighed 188 pounds and Gibbons, 175½. Jack Dougherty is the referee. Dempsey had won the title four years before by knocking out Jess Willard at Toledo, O.

Buckeyes Work On Offense

Horvath Indefinitely Lost to Ohio Squad.

COLUMBUS —(INS)— The Ohio State university football team moved into the tenth day of fall practice today — still pounding relentlessly at offensive training.

Work was begun yesterday on plays run from the punt formation, the first time the Buckeyes have drilled on this particular variation this season.

In the afternoon a stationary scrimmage was held, the first contact work that Paul E. Brown's charges have had since the regulation scrimmage last Saturday afternoon.

The injury situation was at a standstill. Only two players missed yesterday's drills—Les Horvath, Cleveland halfback, and John White, River Rouge, Mich., Flanker, who is out for four weeks with a shoulder separation. Horvath's injury was disclosed to be torn ligaments and the first string backfield ace is out indefinitely.

Whether Horvath will be ready for the opener against Fort Knox a week from Saturday is problematical. At any rate if his injured member responds favorably to treatment, he will be available for the Western conference inaugural Oct. 3 against Indiana.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK—(Wide World)—Instead of punishing those unruly spectators, maybe Brooklyn should give 'em a vote of thanks. . . . The Dodgers hadn't shown as much fight in weeks as they did in that pre-game brawl yesterday, and did you notice how they started hitting right afterward? . . . If they can only stay mad now, they may still beat out the Cards. . . . Dixie Walker only got credit for four hits, but that wasn't a bunt he hung on that fan's jaw. . . . Looks as if the Phils are the real beneficiaries of the close race. They drew 26,874 for the Cards series and will cut in on five games at Ebbets field, including a Sunday doubleheader, as well as two home games against Brooklyn. . . . Ordinarily at this stage they'd have about 300 fans rattling around in the park.

SENSIBLE SOLUTION.

When Johnny Stojack, star back at Wells high in Steubenville, O., was charged with accepting pay for playing sandlot baseball during the summer, H. R. Townsend, head of the Ohio State Athletic conference, ruled that Stojack could regain his eligibility by paying back any money he received for ball playing. . . . He decided that Johnny had compromised himself innocently and that the steel company on whose team he played didn't know it was getting a grid star into trouble.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR.

Jimmie Murphy, Canton (Ill.) Daily Ledger: "So Leo Durocher is going to join the navy! If the Dodgers fail to win the National league pennant, he'd better ask to be assigned to submarine service . . . or most any place other than the Brooklyn navy yard."

SOFTBALL TOURNEY OPENS AT DETROIT

DETROIT —(INS)— Play got underway in full swing today in the world's amateur softball tournament in Detroit after elaborate opening night ceremonies.

Only two games were played in the University of Detroit Stadium before 5,000 fans last night. The Toronto Sunday Morning Girl's class outfit defeated the Phoenix, Ariz., Ramblers 2 to 1, while in the men 's division, Bendix Brakes of South Bend, Ind., defending champs, won over the Merril and Ushers squad, Worcester, Mass., 5 to 1.

CHAMPION LEAVES FOR FRONT LINE

GREAT LAKES, Ill—(INS)—Tony Zale, world middleweight boxing champion and a boxing instructor at Great Lakes Naval Training station, was enroute to an eastern port where he will sail for foreign duty.

The Gary, Ind., battler, who enlisted as a specialist, first class, and aided in the navy's physical hardening program during his training at Great Lakes, won the undisputed 160-pound title a year ago by defeating George Abrams.

Eastern Army Beats Dodgers

Soldiers Battle From Behind For 13-7 Win.

BALTIMORE, Md —(INS)— Encouraged by their 13 to 7 defeat of the Brooklyn football Dodgers, the Eastern Army All-Stars today were ready for their big test—their clash this coming Sunday with the Chicago Bears in Boston.

The early periods of their night game with the Dodgers looked bad for the soldiers and it was not until the fourth quarter that they got up scoring steam. Then they made two touchdowns in rapid succession, converting the first for the extra point.

* * *

The Dodgers, under the guidance of Coach Mike Getto, decisively outplayed the All-Stars in the early part of the game, never permitting a single soldier to get past the 35 yard line. In the first half, the Dodgers made eight first downs to the Army's one.

* * *

Col. Bob Neyland's warriors finally got under way in the last quarter after Norm Standlee recovered for the Army following a fumble by Manders on Brooklyn's 15-yard line.

A series of line smashes took the ball to the Dodger two-yard line where Standee carried it through center for the first touchdown.

The second touchdown followed quickly with Johnson and Kaufman carrying the ball down to the three yard line. There Kaufman crashed the line for the second score.

Freak Diamond Bill Slated

Softball and Hardball Games Booked Sunday.

Pete Metz and his all-stars aren't scared of the Mansfield Travelers in their hardball-softball double header Sunday afternoon at the Fairground.

"In case of an even split Sunday, we'll gladly flip them to see what kind of a game we'll play them the following Sunday," Metz declared. "We'd even be willing to take them on for a game of football."

The baseball game Sunday is scheduled to start at 1:30, to be followed by the softball tilt. Just offhand, it would appear that the Travelers would have the edge in baseball and the Metz stars in softball, as the stars are picked from the city softball league.

Ohioans Decide Title

Toledo and Columbus Battle For AA Crown.

(By Associated Press)

IT'LL BE an All-Ohio playoff in the American Association's Governor's Cup series starting Friday evening.

The Buckeye state's two entries in the loop—Columbus and Toledo—brought about this turn of events last night when each won their semi-final playoffs for the Governor's Cup.

Columbus defeated first place Kansas City in the deciding contest of their seven-game series, 4 to 3, in a 13-inning thriller. Toledo eliminated second place Milwaukee in an equally torrid contest, finally winning in the ninth, 1-0. Ewald Pyle pitched one-hit ball to conquer Eddie Hanyzewski, who allowed four. It was the fourth place Mudhens' third straight victory and gave them a total of four in six games.

The two winners will rest today and then begin their final playoff Friday night at Columbus. Two games will be played at Columbus, George Trautman, president of the league said, with the following three at Toledo. If additional contests are necessary in the best of seven game series, they will be played at Columbus.

Charley Wensloff, Kansas City's 21-game winner, making his third start of the playoff series, blanked Columbus for six innings and led 3-0 going into the seventh last night. Here the Red Birds got an unearned run, then tied the score in the eighth with two more runs. The winning marker in the 13th resulted when Jim Gleason walked, was sacrificed to second, went to third on an infield out and scored on Augie Bergamo's hit to left field.

* * *

At Toledo, the teams battled scorelessly until Ray Parrott opened the ninth for Toledo with a single. There were runners on first and second when Catcher Charley George muffed Storti's attempted sacrifice. Then Art Keller settled the issue by blasting a 3-2 pitch for a hit to center. Hanyzewski had allowed Toledo but two hits until the ninth.

The only Milwaukee hit off Pyle, a lanky southpaw, was a single in the third inning by George.

The winner of the Columbus-Toledo series will meet the victor in a similar International league playoff in baseball's little world series.

Obstacle Races Form Basis Of Army's Physical Training

By JACK CUDDY

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y.—(U.P.)—The war has changed our philosophy of living in many respects, and for those who have been privileged to visit some of our great military encampments, it has changed our conception of "big-time" sports.

Here at Mitchel field — one of the world's great air bases—sports are being carried on with a magnitude and an intensity that we never have noted in major league training camp, college campus or city park.

And the man responsible for this all-out sports program at Mitchel field symbolizes the pace and the magnitude of its sports program. We refer to Maj. Lou J. Tschudi, one of the most popular officers on the post.

It was our good fortune to note Maj. Tschudi's popularity and ability at first hand. We were sitting in the tap room of the officers' club when Tschudi was called to the phone. He was but a captain then. He came back from the phone and said, "Wait here for me. Something very important has come up. But I'll be right back."

He was back in less than a half hour. And on the collar of his khaki shirt was a golden oak leaf, where the two bars of captaincy had been pinned when he left us.

Immediately the taproom became a swirl of congratulations, with officers rushing in from all sides to offer their well wishes. Major Tschudi accepted the congratulations and bought every man at the bar and in the club a drink, as is the custom.

Maj. Tschudi, a medium-sized, wiry chap in his middle 30's, with a mop of brown hair and a fair skin, said, "I don't need to tell you this is the happiest day of my life. I was assistant football coach and head coach for basketball and track at the University of Dayton, O., from 1931 to 1939, but I never got a kick like this from anything my teams have won—because this is the big time—the biggest time of all."

You can't quite appreciate Maj. Tschudi's elation unless you have been at this great base and seen the thousands and thousands of men who are training here. And he's the one man responsible for their physical fitness and their "toughness" when they leave for points unknown.

We asked Maj. Tschudi, "What goes on here? Can you tell us how you harden these legions of men? Is there any particular sport that you accentuate?"

Maj. Tschudi, director of athletics and entertainment, replied, "I don't know what you have read in the papers about how service men in other branches are prepared for combat. But I'll tell you this. We concentrate on obstacle races. When our men leave here, they are able to run-F-O-R-W-A-R-D-with speed and stamina, and able to jump over or climb over almost anything that may be placed in their path.

"This obstacle racing is compulsory for every man who comes into camp—whether he be a pilot or merely a field-maintenance man. There are other compulsory exercises, but this is the most important.

"This obstacle racing is the nucleus of what I believe is the perfect training program—made up of the features of a dozen college athletic systems—sorted out and transferred to this base."

* * *

Maj. Tschudi explained that the vast encampment has also 13 other sports, with expert instructors in all. And in addition to the compulsory athletics, every man must engage in "intramural" games of some sort. He must represent his squad, his company or his squadron in competition. Then, too, there is the competition for individual laurels in every branch of the 14 sports, with coveted prizes in "leaves" as rewards.

There's no Yankee stadium, or Madison Square Garden here, but, gentlemen, this really is the big time in athletics.

OH, I-I'VE SEEN THAT MAN BEFORE--SOMEWHERE! SEEMS TO ME I-I SHOULD KNOW HIM!

IRREGULARITY PERSISTS ON STOCK MARKET

Fractional Gains and Losses Fail to Indicate Any Definite Trends.

(By United Press)

NEW YORK—Mild price irregularity persisted in today's stock market transactions.

Up fractionally were General Motors, Sears Roebuck and Union Carbide. Declines were registered for Chrysler, American Telephone, Anaconda, and General Electric.

Holders of building material shares noted the survey of the engineering News-Record placing heavy construction contracts for the latest week at $206,028,000, more than double the figure for the holiday-shortened preceding week and 71 per cent above the corresponding period a year ago. Federal construction accounted for 93 per cent of the week's total, topping the 1941 week by 134 per cent.

Some market encouragement was derived from the Dun & Bradstreet compilation disclosing bank clearings in 23 cities for the past week rose to the third highest weekly level for the year to date. Quarterly income tax payments and mid-month settlement of bills helped the expansion.

Alexander Simon, Western Union general manager, said that cancellation of all flatrate telegraph services in the nation had been decreed by the company to prevent any possible interference with the efficient handling of the large and growing volume of vital war communications.
